

Herald Tribune

Published with The New York Times and The Washington Post

WEATHER: PARIS: Partly cloudy... Tomorrow little change... Temp. 65-85 (69-15)...

Table with exchange rates for various countries including Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, India, Iran, Israel, Lebanon, Libya, Luxembourg, Monaco, Netherlands, Nigeria, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, U.S. Military, and Yugoslavia.

ENDING THE CELEBRATION—The Empress Farah, the Shah and Crown Prince Reza (flanking flag-bearer), in during ceremony at which the Shah placed a wreath at the tomb of Cyrus the Great in Pasargadae.

Rest, We Are Awake...? omage to Cyrus arts Fete in Iran

PASARGADAH, Iran, Oct. 12 (UPI)—The Shah launched one of the greatest pageants of modern times today when he placed a wreath at the tomb of his country's founder, Cyrus the Great.

A view of the tomb during the ceremony yesterday.

son Lays to Heath spy Issue

ANTHONY LEWIS—A British dispute about Soviet spy activity burst at an angry parliament session today.

But Podgorny Wants Political Solution Sadat Says Only Force Moves Israel

MOSCOW, Oct. 12 (Reuters)—Egyptian President Anwar Sadat told Soviet leaders today that his country had acted on the conviction that force was the only way of securing peace on Israel.

Yahya Will Give Up Power In Pakistan at Year's End

KARACHI, Oct. 12 (UPI)—Pakistan's president, Yahya Khan, announced tonight that a National Assembly would be convened on Dec. 27, and that he would cede power to a new central government soon afterward.

n Acheson dead at 78

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (UPI)—Acheson, 78, U.S. secretary of state under President Truman, died in his home in Sandy Spring, Md., today.

Yahya Khan

ist news agency. This, was in marked contrast to that of his host, President Nikolai V. Podgorny, who made clear Moscow was still aiming at a political settlement in the Middle East.

Mr. Podgorny pledged political and military aid to the Arabs "as long as Israel's aggression against the Arab states continues, as long as its aftermaths are not liquidated."

These included "the expansionist policy of Israel, its desire to frustrate a just political settlement in that region, actions by domestic reactionaries and intrigues by pro-imperialist circles."

Vows Not to 'Exploit' Red Schism Nixon Is to Visit Moscow Next May, After Peking

By Fred Farris WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (UPI)—President Nixon announced today he would meet with Soviet leaders in Moscow in late May, following his visit to Peking, and assured both Communist giants he was not trying to aggravate their disagreements.

chairman Leonid Brezhnev, Premier Alexei Kosygin and President Nikolai Podgorny. He said the time was ripe for such a summit conference because of recent U.S.-Soviet accords on prohibiting biological warfare, protecting seabeds against military use, guarding against ac-dental nuclear war and the U.S., British, French, and Soviet agreement in principle on Berlin. With this record of agreement, Mr. Nixon said, "the time has come to negotiate our differences—there is no substitute for negotiations."

What an agreement on limiting rival anti-missile (ABM) systems and concluding an accord on some offensive nuclear weapons could be completed well before he goes to Moscow.

President Nixon in Washington yesterday telling of his plans to visit Moscow.

After Nixon Initials Clarification Labor Agrees to Assist in Phase 2

By Frank C. Porter WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (UPI)—Organized labor agreed today to cooperate in Phase 2 of the economic stabilization program after President Nixon gave assurances that the Cost of Living Council would not intervene on standards or criteria set by the Pay Board and Price Commission.

This was a shift for the administration, which had insisted that such standards would be subject to "review" by the Cost of Living Council, headed by Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally Jr.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, and Frank R. Fitzsimmons, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, all reaffirmed that they expect deferred and retroactive pay raises in current union contracts to be honored.

Japanese Warned by Nixon On Deadline for Textile Pact

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (Reuters)—President Nixon today threatened to take steps against Japan and other countries if they fail to show this week that they are ready to sign agreements curbing textile exports to the United States.

Mr. Nixon, using his toughest language so far in the long wrangle over textiles, publicly confirmed that the United States had decided to reopen official negotiations toward a textile agreement with the United States.

At the end of the two-page document was a handwritten notation: "OK RN 10/11/71." Mr. Meany said Mr. Nixon initiated the paper last night.

Saigon Vets Get Ransom for GIs, Trucks

SAIGON, Oct. 12 (Reuters)—American troops and their trucks were surrounded and detained for six hours today by South Vietnamese war veterans near the northern port city of Da Nang before their release was negotiated for a 200,000-piaster (about $700) ransom, a U.S. military spokesman said.

They demanded 2.5 million piasters ($10,000) in compensation but settled for 200,000 piasters ($700) after several hours of negotiations.

Communists today fired 56 rounds of rocket and mortar fire at 10 bases scattered in the same area, killing three South Vietnamese and wounding 10.

Japan Ready to Buy More U.S. Arms

By Richard Halloran TOKYO, Oct. 12 (UPI)—The new director of the Japanese Self-Defense Agency said yesterday that Japan is prepared to double its purchases of military hardware from the United States to help overcome the deficit in the American balance of payments.

Mr. Nishimura told newsmen at a luncheon meeting that Japan is ready to spend up to $1 billion for American military equipment in the next five-year defense plan, which is scheduled to begin next April.

President Nixon announced his new economic policy on Aug. 15. American officials here were noncommittal on whether the projected spending would be enough. The United States spends about $60 billion a year here, of which about $25 billion are officially appropriated funds.

Pirates Defeat Orioles, Trail Series by 2-1

The Pittsburgh Pirates cut the Baltimore Orioles' World Series lead to two games to one yesterday by scoring a 5-1 victory.

The teams will continue the best-of-seven series in Pittsburgh tonight when they play the first night game ever in World Series competition.

Details on Page 13.

Sergeant Flown Back to U.S.

Thieu Hopes Release of GI Is Beginning of Many More

SAIGON, Oct. 12 (Reuters).—President Nguyen Van Thieu said today he hopes the recent release of an American prisoner from Viet Cong captivity will lead to the release of large numbers of prisoners.

Speaking in English to reporters after laying the foundation stone of a new Japanese-financed hospital in Cholon suburb, the president said.

"We have one prisoner released. It is a good gesture. I hope it is the beginning of larger scale releases."

Staff Sgt. John Sexton, freed last week after more than two years in captivity, was flown back to the United States today aboard a military aircraft.

The president also commented on last week's presidential poll, saying his re-election showed the people's confidence in him and the future of the country.

Stresses 90% Vote "I am very glad that more than 80 percent of the electors voted for me," he said. "What is even more important is that there was such a large turnout."

Police, meanwhile, fired about 50 tear gas canisters to disperse more than 200 students after they began a protest march against the recent presidential election and the government's compulsory military training program for students.

The students painted slogans in large white letters on roads leading to the Oct. 3 election results. They also demanded an end to the two months annual military training and the release of more than 100 students detained in police raids on the eve of the election.

Army Withheld Letter DETROIT, Oct. 12 (UPI).—A congressman plans to seek an investigation into a report by the family of Sgt. Sexton that the Pentagon withheld a letter written by Sgt. Sexton for two years.

Rep. Lucien M. Nedzi, D., Mich., a member of the House Armed Services Committee, said, "There appears to have been extreme callousness on the part of the Pentagon."

Sgt. Sexton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sexton Sr., of Warren, Mich., came to Denver yesterday, where they will see their son for the first time in three years.

Sgt. Sexton was due in at Denver late tonight. Before leaving Warren, the elder Sexton said that his son wrote a letter seven days after he was captured by the North Vietnamese saying he was not dead. "His parents probably think," but that the letter was held by the Army for two years.

The father said he would like to know "why the letter was held up that long," with the family not knowing whether the 22-year-old sergeant was alive.

Sgt. Sexton's parents said they were not bitter that the Army waited two years to give them the letter.

A Pentagon spokesman said yesterday that Sgt. Sexton's parents were told of the general contents, but did not receive a copy of the note, which remained in Vietnam. He said the Pentagon planned to ask the Army for further clarification as to how the family specifically what was told, and when.

BALKERS—According to the caption on this Associated Press photo, soldiers in Third Brigade of First Cavalry Division, some of whom balked at going on night patrol last Saturday, are shown as they left on patrol Sunday from their base near Cambodian border. Men at right are moving into field, while group at left pauses for moment before moving out. The company involved in the incident has been pulled back from Base Face.

General Says There Was No Refusal to Obey

Balking GIs' Unit Withdrawn From Fire Base

SAIGON, Oct. 12 (AP).—A U.S. infantry company in which five men balked at going out on a night ambush patrol was removed today from Fire Support Base Face, on the Cambodian border.

Maj. Gen. Jack J. Wagstaff, commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam's Third Military Region, said he replaced the company because of "the possible harm it could do to company morale and in line with normal rotation policy."

Gen. Wagstaff said in an interview that an official inspector general's report showed: "There was never any confrontation, never any refusal. There was never an opportunity [for a refusal]. The only refusal, if you want to call it that, is that they told a newsmen they weren't going to go."

Inaccurate Information Gen. Wagstaff said that "some inaccurate information is being floated around by the press with respect to an alleged refusal to comply with an order by five members of Bravo Company, First Battalion, 12th Cavalry, Third Brigade, First Cavalry Division."

Gen. Wagstaff said, shortly after the order had been given for the night ambush patrol Saturday, the five men were preparing their equipment for the mission when an unidentified reporter came into their bunker.

"In the course of this conversation the man said they were scheduled for a patrol but that they were not going," Gen. Wagstaff said.

"That evening," the general continued, "as the platoon was about to form up for the patrol, the liaison officer from an adjacent South Vietnamese unit came to Fire Support Base Face to coordinate operations for the evening."

Already in Position "It was discovered at that time that a South Vietnamese operation was scheduled for about the same area as the Bravo Company ambush patrol and was already in position."

Gen. Wagstaff said that at this point the base commander decided to cancel the U.S. night ambush.

The general said when the company commander heard about the incident, he became angry and formed up a large patrol which included the five reluctant men for an operation in the same area the following day.

"The five men went. There was no refusal and no discussion," Gen. Wagstaff said. There would be no disciplinary action because "nothing was violated," the general added.

Earlier, a field officer said the five reluctant soldiers had re-deemed themselves by going out.

Earlier, a field officer said the five reluctant soldiers had re-deemed themselves by going out.

Earlier, a field officer said the five reluctant soldiers had re-deemed themselves by going out.

Earlier, a field officer said the five reluctant soldiers had re-deemed themselves by going out.

Earlier, a field officer said the five reluctant soldiers had re-deemed themselves by going out.

Earlier, a field officer said the five reluctant soldiers had re-deemed themselves by going out.

Earlier, a field officer said the five reluctant soldiers had re-deemed themselves by going out.

Earlier, a field officer said the five reluctant soldiers had re-deemed themselves by going out.

Earlier, a field officer said the five reluctant soldiers had re-deemed themselves by going out.

"A lot of those guys were bitching [complaining]. It's the sort of thing that goes on all the time." Fire Base Face, about 75 miles northwest of Saigon, and a half mile from the Cambodian border, has been under sporadic shelling since the North Vietnamese opened an offensive in the border area Sept. 26.

Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

ed an offensive in the border area Sept. 26. Gen. Wagstaff's statement of the incident was the subject matter of a formal report released this afternoon, giving results of an investigation he had ordered.

Shah Starts Ceremonies In Iran Fete

(Continued from Page 1) press corps had his security pass inspected before being allowed into the arena.

Large areas of a vast gravel square were occupied by 1,500 brown-uniformed men and women members of the armed forces drawn up for the ceremony with air force blue units at their flanks. Royal court officials in gold-embroidered tunics and plumed cocked hats lined the blue and red dais.

In specially-erected VIP stands, Catholic bishops with scarlet sashes and sashier and Moslem religious leaders stood side by side with rabbis in black skullcaps.

The wife of a Japanese diplomat wore a gold kimono and wafted a tiny fan against the 80 degree heat.

The shah, erect and unsmiling in military uniform, walked a few paces ahead of his identically-dressed son and his 32-year-old wife to inspect a guard of honor.

The empress wore her golden hair swept up under the tiara. A white sash, intricately embroidered in patterns of green and gold, topped an ankle length skirt whose pyramid designs sparkled in the sun.

She stood nearly a head taller than most of her entourage and appeared undisturbed by gusts of wind that whirled sand across the arena.

Flags Flapping Only the flapping of more than 200 green, white and red Iranian flags broke the silence as the shah placed a six-foot-high wreath of palm fronds and flowers at the bottom step of a seven-step pyramid on which the tomb rested.

Ruge blocks of ancient weathered stone form the mausoleum. The shah's speech took the form of an address to Cyrus, the founder of the Persian royal dynasty. Speaking in Persian the shah said: "We had here as the immortal hero of Iran, founder of the oldest empire in the world, the great emancipator of history."

"We have gathered to say rest in peace, for we are awake and will stay awake forever to guard your proud heritage."

After the 40-minute ceremony, the shah flew to Persepolis to begin greeting the heads of state scheduled to pour in today and tomorrow.

The Swiss obsession with punctuality: It finally produced the Eterna Sonic

Advertisement for Eterna Sonic watches. The ad features a large image of a watch and text describing its precision and accuracy. It mentions that the watch is the ultimate in Swiss watchmaking and is produced by Eterna Ltd. Precision Watch Factory in Switzerland. The ad also includes contact information for the U.S. and Canada.

From Calley to Draft Dodgers U.S. Doves to Seek Amnesty On All Vietnam War Offenses

By Kenneth Reich ATLANTA, Oct. 12.—Sixteen public figures who have been generally associated with a dovish position on the Vietnam war have joined forces to propose an amnesty for all war-related offenses, ranging from Lt. William Calley's murders at My Lai to draft-dodging by young men who have fled to Canada or Sweden.

Under the proposal, to be formally announced tomorrow in Washington, Lt. Calley would be freed, as would others convicted of war crimes in Vietnam, and the thousands of men who have left the country to avoid military service would be permitted to return without punishment. Jailed draft resisters also would be freed.

Erikson Another Signer Among those endorsing the appeal in a letter being circulated here are former Sen. Ernest Gruening; former Rep. Charles O. Porter; M. Carl Holman, president of the National Urban Coalition; Benjamin E. Mays, president of the Atlanta School Board and president-emeritus of Morehouse College; Joseph L. Barth Jr., former head of Americans for Democratic Action, and Andrew J. Young, chairman of the Atlanta Human Relations Commission and former executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Others joining in the appeal include Kenneth B. Clark, the psychologist; author Charles Silberman and psychoanalyst and author Erik H. Erikson.

"We're saying, let's not hunt the guilty," said one man involved in circulating the letter. "Let's overcome this tragic period of American history."

"What we're trying to do is put together a group of parents of kids affected by the war and who have no personal involvement in decisions that brought about the war, who see the country so polarized and torn apart by recrimination over guilt relating to the war that everyone has come to despise that they want to encourage putting an end to the recrimination and putting the war behind us."

In addition to Lt. Calley, who is under a 20-year sentence for 22 premeditated murders at My Lai, there have been more than 20 U.S. soldiers convicted of crimes against Vietnamese civilians in less-publicized cases.

Estimates of the numbers of young men who have left the United States to escape the draft, or who have deserted in protest against the war, range from 15,000 to 80,000.

Wilson Lays 'Lie' to Heath on Spy Issue (Continued from Page 1) stupid anyway, with a list of 105 people.

These remarks evidently irritated Mr. Heath and some of his aides intensely.

For one thing, no government official had ever called Mr. Lyall a KGB general or said that he first disclosed the 185 names. Informed sources had spoken instead of his having provided valuable information to confirm existing suspicions.

For another, the concern about Soviet espionage activity here was known to be a long-standing one. It went back well into the time of the Labor government before June, 1970, when Mr. Wilson was prime minister.

Mr. Heath was asked about the Wilson radio statement last night in an interview on Panorama, a British Broadcasting Corporation television program.

"It really is a contemptible attitude," Mr. Heath said, "for a man who was once prime minister and had to handle national security himself, and who knew this position perfectly well but did not deal with it, to make a suggestion like that on a matter of the highest importance to the security of this nation."

Wilson's Retort The stingiest part of that comment was the suggestion that Mr. Wilson had known about Soviet spying and not acted. It was to charge that a brief statement he issued tonight was directed Mr. Wilson said:

"The reference made to me by Mr. Heath on the BBC's Panorama last night was a lie, as he well knows. I shall take an opportunity in my own time of stating the facts in circumstances which will insure as much publicity for the truth as Mr. Heath secured for the lie."

In Moscow today Pravda quoted Mr. Wilson's comment of last Friday as an example of spreading British criticism of the expulsions.

Anti-War Sailors In Brig as Carrier Arrives in Hawaii

HONOLULU, Oct. 12 (AP).—The American aircraft carrier Constellation arrived at Pearl Harbor yesterday with nine anti-war sailors in the brig.

A Navy spokesman said the men had been found guilty at a court-martial of missing the ship's departure from San Diego Oct. 1; of being absent without authorization, and of shirking important service. A captain's mast is a disciplinary procedure less formal than a court-martial.

The men were flown to the 80,000-ton carrier Oct. 2 after being arrested at a church in which they took sanctuary. They were sailing to the Southeast Asia war zone.

The Navy spokesman said the men were sentenced to 30 days' correctional custody, which allows them to leave the brig for work during the day if they wish. But, he said, they have refused to work.

Caral Sea Men Petition ALAMEDA, Calif., Oct. 12 (AP).—A group of 11 American servicemen said yesterday that 1,000 crewmen of the aircraft carrier Coral Sea have petitioned Congress to keep their ship from sailing to another combat mission off Vietnam.

Between 30 and 35 of the ship's 4,500 crewmen will refuse to report for duty Nov. 12 when the ship is scheduled to sail for Southeast Asia, the group said at a news conference.

Wilson Lays 'Lie' to Heath on Spy Issue

(Continued from Page 1) stupid anyway, with a list of 105 people.

These remarks evidently irritated Mr. Heath and some of his aides intensely.

For one thing, no government official had ever called Mr. Lyall a KGB general or said that he first disclosed the 185 names. Informed sources had spoken instead of his having provided valuable information to confirm existing suspicions.

For another, the concern about Soviet espionage activity here was known to be a long-standing one. It went back well into the time of the Labor government before June, 1970, when Mr. Wilson was prime minister.

Mr. Heath was asked about the Wilson radio statement last night in an interview on Panorama, a British Broadcasting Corporation television program.

"It really is a contemptible attitude," Mr. Heath said, "for a man who was once prime minister and had to handle national security himself, and who knew this position perfectly well but did not deal with it, to make a suggestion like that on a matter of the highest importance to the security of this nation."

Wilson's Retort The stingiest part of that comment was the suggestion that Mr. Wilson had known about Soviet spying and not acted. It was to charge that a brief statement he issued tonight was directed Mr. Wilson said:

"The reference made to me by Mr. Heath on the BBC's Panorama last night was a lie, as he well knows. I shall take an opportunity in my own time of stating the facts in circumstances which will insure as much publicity for the truth as Mr. Heath secured for the lie."

In Moscow today Pravda quoted Mr. Wilson's comment of last Friday as an example of spreading British criticism of the expulsions.

Nixon to Visit Soviet Union In Late May, After China

(Continued from Page 1) viewed favorably by British officials today.

They said that the government had been informed beforehand of Mr. Nixon's decision.

Observers recalled that Britain has maintained that it wants continued improvement in East-West relations. Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home was due to go to Moscow for talks with Soviet leaders early next year. But the Soviet Union canceled this visit as part of its recent retaliatory measures following Britain's expulsion of 105 Soviet officials for alleged spying.

NATO View Favorable BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (Reuters).—Mr. Nixon's announcement was hailed by NATO Secretary-General Joseph Luns here today.

A statement issued by NATO headquarters here said Mr. Luns felt that everything which might lead to an improvement in relations between the United States and the Soviet Union would be beneficial to the Atlantic Alliance.

Mr. Nixon's assurance that he would consult with his alliance partners on all aspects of the intended visit was especially welcomed by Mr. Luns, the statement added.

He will make another announcement on further pullouts of American troops in November, he reminded reporters, and added: "I strongly urge the members of the press not to speculate on what I am going to say."

On other foreign policy matters, the President said:

Intensive consultations with the NATO allies on mutual balance-of-payments reduction and the Soviet-proposed European security conference will be held before he journeys to Moscow.

While the United States would have preferred a contested election in South Vietnam, Saigon "has made great progress toward representative government" and the United States "of course" would send a representative to President Nguyen Van Thieu's inauguration to another term.

Mr. Nixon has visited Moscow before, the most notable trip being in July, 1959, when as Vice-President he engaged the late Nikita S. Khrushchev, then premier, in the "kitchen debate."

In March, 1967, Mr. Nixon again visited the Soviet capital, that time as a private citizen.

The last U.S.-Soviet summit was that of Mr. Nixon's N.J. in June, 1967, between Mr. Kosygin and former President Johnson.

Bonn Halls Plan BONN, Oct. 12 (Reuters).—West Germany today welcomed Mr. Nixon's announcement of the trip to Moscow next year as a contribution to a relaxation of East-West tensions.

An official spokesman said the Bonn government was informed in advance of the President's plan.

Britain Welcomes Visit LONDON, Oct. 12 (Reuters).—Mr. Nixon's announcement was Mujibur Is Reportedly Found Guilty NEW DELHI, Oct. 12 (UPI).—The Pakistani military tribunal that tried the East Pakistan leader, Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, for "treason" has found him "guilty" and recommended the death penalty, authoritative Indian sources said today.

The trial was said to have been concluded ten days ago and the recommendation has been sent to President Yahya Khan. An Indian official source said that the verdict of the secret trial has been circulated to all the diplomatic missions of Pakistan. The Indian officials obtained the information from a Pakistani diplomat who had defected.

U.S., Soviet Pressure According to Indian sources, the United States and Soviet Union have been urging Mr. Yahya to carry out the verdict of the military court. The expectation here is that the Pakistani president might accede to the request to demonstrate the genuineness of his recent amnesty offer to all "those who had wavered from the chosen path."

Sheikh Mujibur, who was head of the autonomy movement of the 75 million Bengalis of East Pakistan, was seized by the military authorities on March 25 when they launched an attack on his followers in an attempt to repress the movement.

Yahya to Give Up Power at Year's End (Continued from Page 1) government to propose amendments to a constitution being prepared under Mr. Khan's direction.

The president also spoke at length on the dangers of war with India.

Although there is no cause for alarm, he said, "it is obvious... that there is a serious possibility of aggression by India against Pakistan."

[In New Delhi, the Indian Foreign Ministry issued a statement tonight, three hours before Mr. Khan's speech, ruling out any immediate talks with Pakistan to resolve the East Pakistan crisis, AP reported.]

["The Bangla Desh issue is not an India-Pakistan problem and can be settled only with the already elected representatives of Bangla Desh," the statement said. It said there would be no talk this week in India between Indian President V. V. Giri and Mr. Yahya, both of whom are to represent their countries at the celebrations marking the 2,500th anniversary of the Persian Empire.]

Mr. Khan said Indian infiltrators were sending frogmen and saboteurs to disrupt communications in East Pakistan and promote famine by sinking ships carrying relief supplies.

He asked that the international community "impress upon India the need to desist from interfering in our internal affairs and to withdraw its forces from our borders."

WEATHER table listing weather forecasts for various cities including Amsterdam, Ankara, Athens, Beirut, Belgrade, Bombay, Brussels, Sydney, Santiago, Casablanca, Copenhagen, Corfu, Florence, Geneva, Helsinki, Istanbul, Las Palmas, Lisbon, London, Moscow, New York, Niigata, Paris, Prague, Rome, Stockholm, Tel Aviv, Venice, Vienna, Warsaw, and Yokohama.

كلمة من اجل

Visit Soviet... ay, After...

OF TRICK PHOTOGRAPHY—Sheri Bartlett of Las Vegas is "launching" her new sailboat in 3,000 gallons of water held in the "scoop" of a giant mining machine called the Hough. Billed as largest in the world, it weighs about a quarter million pounds with each pound costing a dollar. It can scoop up 18 cubic yards, or 27 tons, of earth at a time, its manufacturer says.

Nixon to Act On High Court Next Week

Byrd and 2 Women Are Among Candidates
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP).—President Nixon said today he will announce his selections for two Supreme Court vacancies next week. He said Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D., W. Va., and at least two women are among those now under consideration.

Responding to a question at an impromptu news conference, Mr. Nixon said Sen. Byrd, a conservative Democrat, "is definitely on the list" that he is considering.

"I don't rule out Sen. Byrd and I certainly don't rule out a woman," Mr. Nixon said, as he disclosed: "I will make the nominations next week."

McGovern Against Byrd
Yesterday, Sen. George McGovern, in a statement his office called a "clarification" of earlier comments, urged President Nixon not to nominate Sen. Byrd to the Supreme Court.

The South Dakota Democrat said he would not make a final decision on how he would vote on a Byrd nomination until Senate hearings on such a nomination were concluded.

Romney Orders 1,200-Job Slash In HUD Offices
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (WP).—George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, has ordered a 7.5 percent, 1,200-job slash in HUD by June 30, and a feasibility study of localized cuts of up to 50 percent.

According to HUD sources, Mr. Romney's plan stems largely from reduced White House pressure for economy.

Last spring Mr. Romney sought congressional approval for 700 more employees, for a total HUD roster of 16,700. But now, according to HUD officials, Mr. Romney's aim is to absorb the cuts in Washington (current roster: 4,200), and in 10 HUD regional offices (2,500). He wants to keep intact a 2,500-man staff manning 77 local Federal Housing Authority, insurance offices.

Some HUD officials contend that Mr. Romney's projected 1972 cuts would "inevitably slash" "muscle" as well as "fat," particularly in already undermanned staffs dealing with racial discrimination, Model Cities and monitoring low-income housing programs.

If Mr. Romney's maximum cuts were implemented, these officials said, HUD's Washington staff would decline by 40 percent to 2,500; the regional staffs would drop by 50 percent to roughly 1,250.

French Jet Crash Kills 2
PARIS, Oct. 12 (Reuters).—A French Air Force Mirage-4 bomber crashed during a training flight today, killing its two-man crew and injuring a civilian, the air force announced.

Bridges Seeks All-Coast Halt After West 'Cool-Off' Ends
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12 (AP).—A court order has cargo moving in West Coast ports, but longshoremen's leader Harry Bridges says he is seeking an alliance with striking East and Gulf Coast dock workers that would cut off virtually all American shipping commerce when the "cooling-off" period ends.

U.S. Grounds Its C-5 Fleet
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP).—The Air Force's entire fleet of 47 C-5 super transports was put out of action today as 18 more planes were grounded after inspectors found more structural problems.

Angela Davis's Sister Questioned by British
LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP).—Mrs. Fanya Jordan, on a European tour to rally support for her sister, American black militant Angela Davis, was detained for questioning today on her arrival at London's Heathrow Airport but later was permitted to enter Britain for a one-month stay.

Freddy Perfumes
GLOVES — BAGS — GIFTS
10 RUE AUBER, PARIS
SPECIAL EXPORT DISCOUNT
Phone: RIC. 78-91

Jailed Truant, 14, Hangs Himself — As Father Did 10 Years Before

CONROE, Texas, Oct. 12 (UPI).—A 14-year-old boy arrested for truancy hanged himself with his pants in the Montgomery County jail Saturday. His father died exactly the same way ten years ago.

For Second Time High Court Refuses to Rule On Legality of War in Vietnam
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (UPI).—The Supreme Court refused today for the second time to rule on the constitutionality of the Vietnam war, never formally "decided" by Congress.

The court's brief order left standing a ruling of last April 20 by the 2d U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New York.

The court held that congressional approval of the war could be inferred from passage of the Tonkin Gulf resolution, appropriation of billions of dollars to carry on the conflict, extension of the draft law and specific conscription of manpower.

The government had urged the court to dismiss the appeal on the ground the issue was one which Congress could resolve.

The Justice Department told the Supreme Court, "A President violates the constitutional powers of Congress in this area at his peril—and Congress is the best judge of whether there has been a violation."

The lower court's opinions generally adopted the government's arguments, generating statements by senators that the meaning of their votes on the Tonkin Gulf resolution had been misinterpreted.

An amendment to that effect proposed by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R., N.Y., to a defense appropriation bill was withdrawn.

Bishop of Oslo Urges Synod To Reconsider Celibacy Law

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 12 (UPI).—The Catholic bishop suggested today that the time has come to scrap the 19th-century church law forbidding priests to marry.

Many priests in largely Lutheran Scandinavia, he said, live in "painful solitude." He said this is not always advisable.

Other speakers have called for admission of some elderly married men to the priesthood under limited circumstances.

Deceptive Change
"We should not deceive ourselves," Cardinal Conway said, "by saying we do not want optional celibacy but only some change in the law under certain conditions."

But in the modern world, where public opinion is often subject to pressures of a violent kind, such conditions would be washed away like stones in a river.

The Primate of Poland, Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński, 70, said the demands of the priesthood are too great to entrust to elderly men, "tired out and unable to come to grips with youthful enthusiasm or ideals."

Bayh Quits Race For Presidency

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP).—Sen. Birch Bayh, D., Ind., withdrew today from the crowded field for the Democratic presidential nomination, saying he wishes to be at the side of his wife during "a lengthy period of recuperation" from surgery last week for breast cancer.

Several of his Senate colleagues looked on as Sen. Bayh read a statement at a news conference saying that, because of his wife's illness, he was dropping plans to announce his candidacy for president.

He declined to state a preference among the other Democratic presidential possibilities, saying, "I can enthusiastically support any one of them."

Amendment Sent to Senate House Votes Women's Rights Bill

By Richard E. Lyons
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (WP).—The House approved the women's rights constitutional amendment today after striking out a provision that would exempt women from the military draft and to let stand laws protecting the health and safety of women workers.

Rep. Martha Griffiths, D., Mich., chief sponsor of the equal rights amendment, said women would not be exempt from the draft and would prefer that the resolution be killed if the exemptions were approved.

The resolution was then approved and sent to the Senate by a vote of 354-10-23, far more than the two-thirds vote required. It will become part of the Constitution only if approved by a two-thirds vote of the Senate and by the legislatures of 28 states.

The House passed a similar resolution last year, but it died in the Senate. An amendment has passed the Senate three times over the years, but always with the exemption attached. The Senate Judiciary Committee has taken no action on the proposal this year.

Rep. Griffiths has been placed on the Senate calendar without reference to committee and could be called up at any time.

Rep. Griffiths and her allies argued that the "protective" work laws are more often used to discriminate against women's employment or production than to protect them.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D., N.Y., Judiciary Committee chairman and an opponent of the amendment, said it would be "unthinkable for women to be integrated into the carnage of war."

Rep. David W. Dennis, R., Ind., said that under the amendment as approved, if fathers were drafted during wartime, then mothers would have to be drafted, too.

Others conjured up pictures of male and female soldiers in the same foxholes. But Rep. Griffiths replied that the amendment required only that women be equally subject to the draft, not that they be assigned to the front lines.

Unions Vote To Continue Metro Strike
PARIS, Oct. 12 (IET).—Leaders of this city's two striking subway unions told their followers to go back to work today, only to be turned down decisively in an afternoon vote.

In a statement tonight, Prime Minister Jacques Chaban-Delmas called the strike "unjustifiable and dangerous," and said it was seriously hurting the city's economy.

The new and what Mr. Chaban-Delmas called "dangerous" twist to the strike came when the some 2,000 subway motormen who are striking for a higher job classification and more pay, voted down union recommendations which were made after an all-night negotiating session with the government.

In French parlance it meant that the unions were now being led by its base, or union locals, instead of the leadership. A similar phenomenon occurred in the May, 1968, strikes, when the locals walked out even without authorization from the leadership.

Following the locals' vote to continue the strike, several commentators called on the government to use the army to get the lines running again.

Railway, Gasoline Strikes Called Off By Italian Unions

ROME, Oct. 12 (UPI).—Railroadmen and gasoline distributors called off scheduled strikes yesterday, sparing the economy two serious blows at a time of falling employment and rising prices.

Unions representing 150,000 employees of the state railroads, who had planned to start a 24-hour strike tonight, canceled it after government negotiators agreed to consider their demands.

Gasoline-station workers called off a 50-hour strike, also scheduled to start this evening, after winning assurances that the government would consider their demands for a larger share of proceeds from gasoline sales.

Telephone workers, demanding higher pay and better working conditions, said they would stage a series of region-by-region strikes today.

An estimated 22,000 employees of various semistate agencies, ranging from the Red Cross to the National Olympic Committee and the Foreign Trade Institute, called a 24-hour walkout for Thursday, demanding pay raises.

FROM ANTWERP BELGIUM
the
DIAMOND
for you
Now buy a Diamond at better than wholesale prices from a leading first source firm located at the Diamond center of the world: Finest quality Diamonds at tremendous savings to you. Buy a Diamond for someone you love, gifts, investment or personal use. Write for free brochure or visit.
INTERNATIONAL DIAMOND SALES
diamond house,
51, boulevard des Capucines
Paris 1^{er}, France
tel: 01/27.52.05
ALL DIAMONDS ARE GUARANTEED

ALL
PIAGET
WATCHES
EXPORT PRICES

JEAN ETE
Jeweller-Watchmaker
70, fg St-Honore - PARIS
Anj. 12.33

French Myth?

The only thing you will not find at Orly.

Myths, how fragile! One touch of reality and crack—they crumble. An example: France is for you cancan, narrow streets, musty shops. Then, you arrive at Paris-Orly. A building of glass, air-conditioned stuffed with shops and services to welcome you. You can browse in dozen of boutiques, offering the most prestigious French specialties representing centuries of tradition (no myth, this). Here are lovingly aged brandies, exotic cheeses, unforgettable foies gras. And perfumes (what would life be without perfumes!), jewels, watches and cameras. And naturally, clothes! What is fashion, if not French? That's not all. At Orly you can wine and dine, go to the movies, to the drugstore, rent a car, park your child, do your marketing! And speak English too! Try Orly. Enjoy the efficiency of technical services. But, please, no myths about Orly!

AEROPORT DE PARIS
DUTY FREE SHOP

CHEL SWISS
RFGS-GLOVES
AGS-TIES-GIFTS
SPECIAL EXPORT DISCOUNT
10 RUE AUBER - PARIS
Tel: OFE. 62-36

Dangerous Leverage

It would be nothing new in United Nations history if the United States sought to exercise financial leverage on the world organization over the two-Chinas issue. It has been done before by other powers, quite openly. And the practical case for retaining Taiwan as a member if mainland China is admitted is a very sound one. Nevertheless, there are dangers in the course to which the administration seems tacitly committed: that of allowing such senators as James Buckley of New York to act as spokesmen for "the mood of Congress."

Mr. Buckley did speak for 21 senators who signed a statement against the expulsion of Taiwan. It may be doubted, however, whether a majority of the American people, as Mr. Buckley claims, is ready to make drastic cuts in American expenditures for the UN to back this position. What is more likely is that a majority of Congress might, with the consent of their constituents, be quite willing to use the Taiwan issue as an excuse for reducing government spending in general, in the field of foreign affairs. And this is a mood that should not be encouraged.

The top-heavy burden borne by the United States in contributing about one-third of the costs of the UN can be justified by American economic strength. At a time when the United States is deeply concerned about economic problems, and the search for new priorities in the use of government funds, however, there is an increased sensitivity to the relationship between American fiscal responsibilities in the UN and the voice, or lack of it, the United States has in the General Assembly. There are many who question the wisdom of spending large sums to provide a forum for the denunciation and the frustration of American policies.

If this shows a cross spirit, it is no crasser than the actions of France and the Soviet Union, for example, about funding UN peace-keeping operations. But if it gets out of hand, it can damage far more than the UN. Mr. Buckley talks in the manner of the 1950s, the forces he tries to evoke, however, could take the United States back to the 1930s.

This is 1971. The United States has moved away from the spirit of the cold war—but it would be perilous folly to relapse into the spirit of the Neutrality Acts and the isolationism of the Depression years. Mr. Nixon has spoken out against both the cold war mentality and that of Fortress America. It would be tragic if, for tactical reasons connected with the shaping of a new China policy, he allowed the chill of the former to return, or shortsighted men to build walls around an America whose interests are still, and must remain, global in scope.

Moderation Wins in Mid-Europe

The cause of moderate, democratic socialism seems to be flourishing in Central Europe. Elections last weekend gave absolute majorities to Chancellor Bruno Kreisky's Socialist party in Austria's lower house and to Chancellor Willy Brandt's Social Democrats in the Bremen state election in West Germany.

Bremen has been a Social Democratic stronghold since the war. But this time Mr. Brandt's party, under the vigorous leadership of young Hans Koschnik, rolled up 55 percent of the vote, a 10-point gain on its showing in the last state election. Other salutary aspects in Bremen were the emphatic voter rejection of Red-scare propaganda by the opposition parties and the failures of both the neo-Nazi National Democrats and the Communists to win a single seat in the state parliament.

To the extent that Mr. Brandt's policy of seeking better relations with the Soviet bloc figured in the Bremen election, the voters appear to have endorsed it—a result the Christian Democrats in Bonn, committed to all-out opposition to West Germany's non-aggression treaties with Russia and Poland, may wish to study.

In Austria, the Socialists won not only their biggest victory ever but the first absolute majority of the popular vote captured by any Austrian party in a free parliamentary election since World War I. It was a great personal triumph for Mr. Kreisky, who led his Socialists narrowly into first place over the People's party last year and directed a minority government for the last 18 months.

Austria has achieved the highest sustained growth rate of any developed country except Japan and the future looks bright. Mr. Kreisky's socialism, like Mr. Brandt's, is reformist and pragmatic. He has forsown say nationalization of industry during the life of this parliament. Austria will, of course, remain neutral, the price cheerfully paid for restoration of independence in 1955. But this will not prevent Mr. Kreisky from persevering toward a working association with the Common Market.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

International Opinion

How to Cure the Dollar

Doubtless in America, as here under the last government, many people both in Washington and in industry will waste much time trying unsuccessfully to bend economic forces to the "national good." As in Britain, the only concrete outcome will probably be an erosion of profit margins and therefore investment, and a temporary slowing in the rate of increase in prices—to be followed by the deluge. The monopoly power of the trade unions will continue to insure that wages keep well ahead of prices. The real way to a healthy dollar is through more flexible exchange rates which must include a realistic price for gold.

—From the Daily Telegraph (London).

The Great Spy Exodus

In many ways Moscow would obviously like the whole business to be forgotten. The British declaration and strong action a fortnight ago came at a most awkward time for the Soviet leaders. At the very time that they were journeying abroad, spreading the message of peace and good neighborliness, the world was told that they were secretly working against the security of Britain and, by extension, against the security of other countries with whom they professed friendship.

The after-effects may drag on for some time, yet it would be uncharacteristic and surprising if the Russians let the affair be an obstacle when the day comes for real diplomatic or commercial business to be done. The leaders must have more understanding of the reasons for the British action than they could ever admit.

—From the Times (London).

Labor to the Left?

To judge exclusively from the speeches and resolutions, the Labor party's annual convention brought a clear shift to the left. The meeting was dominated by the Marxist heads of the two largest labor unions, Jack Jones and Hugh Scanlon, while moderate politicians found themselves forced into a corner and party leader Wilson seemed concerned only to exploit the conflict between the left and the right wings of the party in order to strengthen his own shaky position. The question is how far the speeches and resolutions reflect the actual power situation within the party.

—From the Neue Zuercher Zeitung (Zurich).

Nixon's Plans

Nixon intends to continue a flexible wage-price freeze after the foreseen three-month period. He hopes these measures will be effective enough to reduce the yearly rise in the cost of living from 6 percent before the freeze to 2 or 3 percent by the end of next year—a percentage considered acceptable for a modern economy.

Nixon knows that if he lifted these measures, inflation would flare up worse than ever, but rigid controls would run counter to his objective of a resumption of business after a long stagnation period.

—From France-Sotr (Paris).

Barzel and the Right

Given some Christian Democratic luck in 1973, the next German Chancellor could be a man who wants to undo Herr Brandt's Ostpolitik, reunite Germany and clamp down on Communists. Or this is what he says he wants to do. Last week Dr. Rainer Barzel celebrated his election to the leadership of the Christian Democratic Union with a speech that identified him firmly with the right wing of his party. He is against the treaties that Herr Brandt has negotiated with the Soviet Union and Poland. He thinks the Russians should be told that the Germans are one people and will reunite one day. He does not want a Soviet consul-general in West Berlin. He has looked at the clock and he wants to put it back.

Herr Barzel, by his election and the manner of it, has polarized German politics into two camps—one in favor of a détente with Russia and the other against it. This will not be helpful to Europe.

—From the Guardian (London).

In the International Edition

Seventy-Five Years Ago

October 13, 1896

BIARRITZ, France—Grand illuminations, grand fireworks, grand festivities of all sorts have been the order of the day for Biarritz, with greater reason than most French resorts, felt its her duty and pleasure to celebrate the Franco-Russian alliance. Her gratitude to Russia is sincere, for yearly come here many of the Grand Dukes who, putting aside all ceremony, live quietly and simply and spend an immense amount of money.

Fifty Years Ago

October 13, 1921

NEW YORK—Universal disarmament is impossible and even its desirability is now questionable, according to President Harding. This view is expressed in a letter to Miss Ella Freed in reply to her communication urging the President to work for complete disarmament. The President wrote: "By reasonable limitation, I mean something practicable that there is a chance to accomplish, rather than an ideal that there would be no chance to realize."

'Our Reports Show That Washington Is Leaving No Cookie Unopened Preparing For Kissinger's Trip To China.'

Odyssey Among the Spooks

By C. L. Sulzberger

MONTE CARLO—The spindrift of the Cold War is the human spray blown hither and thither by ideological gusts. This is typified by dissidents who flee Communist lands in search of freedom, by draft-dodgers seeking to escape the U.S. armed forces abroad, by American black revolutionists in foreign havens, and by defectors from rival diplomatic or espionage establishments who for different reasons abandon their native lands.

One of the most puzzling of these instances is that of Jozsef Seall, Hungary's senior career ambassador and most recently special adviser to his foreign minister, Seall fled Budapest last year, spent considerable time under interrogation by Italian security representatives in Rome, where he had long been envoy, and early this year was flown to the United States by the Central Intelligence Agency, whose voluntary guest he remained for weeks.

Seall, his wife and 13-year-old boy benefited from the hospitality of a CIA safe house near Washington, during which time the family acknowledges it was amiable. The visited Washington theaters and museums but were isolated from direct contact with friends or non-CIA officials.

Felt Uncertain

However, although the CIA offered to facilitate the Sealls' permanent admission, the ambassador remained uncertain that he wanted to make the final leap. He still felt Hungarian and a "Socialist," if of heretically liberal sort.

Therefore, with the intelligence agency's help, they flew back to Europe, stopping first in Switzerland. The Swiss security police immediately wanted a report on everything he had told Italian American intelligence. When he refused they eased him out.

The Sealls then went to Vienna, where they established telephone contact with various Hungarian officials as well as with Budapest's embassy in Austria. Somehow, by wishful thinking, they hoped they might still be forgiven and allowed to return home to an esteemed position.

Just why they should have cherished such a delusion is hard to fathom. While the Sealls were still refugees in Rome on the initial lap of their strange odyssey, they attended a prearranged meeting in St. Peter's, Vatican City, and were almost kidnapped by the Hungarian "diplomatic representatives" whom they met. Alert Italian security agents apparently prevented their forcible removal.

Soon the freeze began, however, and Seall's curious dream of defecting began to vanish. He demanded a safe conduct and a written amnesty. "What do you expect?" he was asked, "the red-carpet treatment?" All doors closed.

At this point Seall decided to return Westward. He had no wish to go back to Italy, where the security apparatus didn't feel especially chummy following his departure from the hospitality of Rome's spooks for that of Washington's.

with officials by long distance telephone to Budapest.

Soon the freeze began, however, and Seall's curious dream of defecting began to vanish. He demanded a safe conduct and a written amnesty. "What do you expect?" he was asked, "the red-carpet treatment?" All doors closed.

At this point Seall decided to return Westward. He had no wish to go back to Italy, where the security apparatus didn't feel especially chummy following his departure from the hospitality of Rome's spooks for that of Washington's.

A Neutral Corner?

Nor did he aspire to try so soon, again, to revisit the United States, which wouldn't have been easy anyway. He wanted a neu-

The Twilight of J. Edgar

By Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

WASHINGTON.—The forced resignation of the highly respected William C. Sullivan from the Federal Bureau of Investigation has exposed only a tiny corner of one of Washington's most carefully hidden scandals: the deterioration of the FBI as a law-enforcement agency.

Sullivan, until recently the FBI's No. 3 man, submitted his resignation last Thursday, just one week after a tense confrontation with Director J. Edgar Hoover. But this is no mere personal dispute. In truth, some of the FBI's most competent officials, particularly in the field offices, are heartily about what they view as Hoover's incompetent and tyrannical reign. They candidly acknowledge that the FBI is not doing its job today.

With the ruthless self-preservation born of 48 years as grand vizier of the FBI, Hoover has lashed back against his internal critics. The result, hidden from public view, has been a reign of terror. Some respected FBI officials have been demoted or summarily transferred, others reduced to nervous prostration in wholly realistic fear of surveillance by Hoover agents.

Enough of this is known at the White House and Justice Department to redouble the private conviction there that Hoover, 76, should go and go soon. But concern about further undermining President Nixon's standing on the right has mesmerized the administration.

Bitter Debate

It is one of Hoover's assets, then, that bitter public debate about him is cast in ideological terms. Because criticism from the left concentrates on his conservatism rather than his incompetence, conservatives gather about him protectively.

Indeed, popular accounts of differences between Hoover and Sullivan are over-idealized. Although Hoover was unhappy with Sullivan's factually incontestable thesis that the Communist party in the U.S. has nothing to do with terrorist groups of the left, the basic criticism of the director from his own agents and top assistants is aimed at the way he runs the agency.

Their complaint, never yet voiced publicly, goes like this: Contrary to the myth that the FBI is a great law-enforcement agency and the director its greatest lawman, the bureau has failed to grow with the times. Hoover has ignored new technology, including the computer. Paranoiacally suspicious, he relies on ye-men within the bureau and prohibits contacts with other government agencies (including the Justice Department itself). Although the left views Hoover as an intolerant neo-fascist, the truth is that he is morbidly sensitive to the merest hint of criticism, particularly in the press, including the bellowing about wiretaps. So the director has severely restricted wiretapping, shaking the FBI's domestic intelligence operations.

From within the FBI, criticisms of Hoover's stewardship are many. Successful apprehension of fugitives has been all too infrequent. The pilfering of FBI files at Media, Pa., was an obvious case of lax security procedures.

Hoover retaliates

In frustration, some of the FBI's top officials began dealing behind Hoover's back, directly with the highly conservative chiefs of the Nixon Justice Department. Furious, Hoover struck back with his reign of terror.

In the chaos, some respected FBI agents have chosen early retirement. Assistant Director James Gale, a bright light running the FBI's fight against organized crime, quit last month at the age of 50. Officers of Gale's caliber have found themselves suddenly deposited from key executive posts and handed bureaucratic junk jobs. Hoover's purpose is to surround himself with officials of unquestioning obedience and docility—in short, with sycophants.

One recent shift, for instance, took Charles Bates from the Chicago field office to assistant director here in charge of the general investigative division. The reason: Bates is an untested Hoover sycophant. He was replaced in Chicago by Roy Moore, who in the Jackson, Miss., office performed magnificently by breaking the Ku Klux Klan—a project never having Hoover's enthusiastic support. Inside the FBI, some think his transfer was an attempt to provoke an early retirement.

Thus have Hoover's chief critics inside the FBI been neutralized—forced into retirement, transferred, demoted or frightened into submission. But the process might be the director's undoing. It has, for the first time, broken the iron wall of silence shielding what really goes on inside the FBI. Some of Hoover's shocking deficiencies are now being revealed to the public. More will come.

One recent shift, for instance, took Charles Bates from the Chicago field office to assistant director here in charge of the general investigative division. The reason: Bates is an untested Hoover sycophant. He was replaced in Chicago by Roy Moore, who in the Jackson, Miss., office performed magnificently by breaking the Ku Klux Klan—a project never having Hoover's enthusiastic support. Inside the FBI, some think his transfer was an attempt to provoke an early retirement.

Thus have Hoover's chief critics inside the FBI been neutralized—forced into retirement, transferred, demoted or frightened into submission. But the process might be the director's undoing. It has, for the first time, broken the iron wall of silence shielding what really goes on inside the FBI. Some of Hoover's shocking deficiencies are now being revealed to the public. More will come.

Letters

Alsop's Place

Over the years, Joseph Alsop's columns have been a source of great amusement to an infinite number of your readers. When all around him the facts proved to the contrary, Alsop never tired of persistently forecasting the victory of American forces in Vietnam and "the courageous leadership" they installed there. Then, in 1970, he started his panic articles on the imminent demise of the state of Israel with his prophecy that the Russians were on the verge of crossing the canal and fighting alongside the Egyptians. Now (Herald Sept. 28-29), he elaborates on what is happening chez the "courageous young King Hussein." To speak of the play-boy king, with his stream of private sports cars, planes, air-conditioned bowling alleys and villas, a king half of whose country is under occupation and three-quarters of whose population detest his person and oppose his repressive regime, as "the courageous young king," is indeed hilarious.

Many of your readers are still waiting for the day when Joseph Alsop's columns would be moved to the comics pages where they clearly and most decidedly belong.

BARBARA ZIMBEL
Paris.

Labeling Troops

Constant and exclusive reference in the U.S. press to "North Vietnamese troops" all over Indochina prompts me to ask if our press is really convinced that there is not a single Indochinese patriot fighting foreign aggression in his own country. ("Viet Cong" is also used—usually where Cambodia is concerned). This sort of journalism is still being ground out months after the Pentagon Papers revealed to all who didn't know it before that even the CIA was aware that the liberation forces in South Vietnam were indigenous to the South, that infiltration rates from the North were insignificant, and the few infiltrators returning were Southerners, that in 1961 (10 years ago), the NFL already had a strength of at least 300,000.

The Pathet Lao and the Cambodian United National Front are also realities, and it will be a red-letter day when the U.S. press makes the great leap to "national liberation forces" or "resistance fighters." If we object to any Indochinese in each other's countries, the best solution is to get out so they can all go home.

SUSAN GEORGE
Paris.

Arrest in Brazil

The "People" story (Herald, Oct. 11) about a Brazilian woman kidnapper turning herself into a man is intriguing of course, even somewhat amusing. Except that one must ask oneself why go through all that pain, that trouble, that expense, that psychological trauma, to elude arrest? Only rarely. In Brazil today all arrests of any consequence are followed by torture, electrical, hydraulic, or other. I stress the fact—this is a matter which I've had reason to study—that torture is not reserved for all political prisoners, but is also inflicted on common-law prisoners the moment something needs clearing up fast.

JOHN COLEMAN-HOLMES
Paris.

The Colonel (Cont.)

I have a small sequel to Mr. Ardy MacEibone's "small sequel" to my story about the sports editor who mortally offended Col. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune (Herald, Oct. 6). Mr. MacEibone cites the Colonel's instructions: "Never fire that man, but never give him a raise." Absolutely exact; I had forgotten it. But—two years later the culprit shook dice with Jack Hummel, publisher of the Chicago Tribune's Paris edition, and won the doubling of his salary.

WAVERTLEY ROOT.
De de Ré, France.

There IS an AI Hix

I have just read (Herald, Sept. 11-12) Mary Blume's excellent article on David Wolper but she failed to mention that when Wolper was business manager and Buchwald was managing editor of the USC humor magazine—Wampus—the editor was a guy named AI Hix. The magazine was originally called "Campus Wit," then sponsored by "Wampus Kit" (with a black cat as a logo), but by the time Hix-Buchwald-Wolper took over in 1947, the kit had been curtailed.

JUNE MOORE
Los Angeles.

Giving America The Byrd

By William V. Shinn

WASHINGTON.—In the 11 hours of the 1970 campaign Richard Nixon climbed on hood of his car in San Jose, and gave back to a hostile, angry radical youth the peace they regard as—peculiarly own. He received the angry roar of boos and catcalls he hoped to elicit.

Climbing down, he said: "That's what they do." There is the same provocative, rub-the-salt-in-the-spirit at work in Nixon's pre-inauguration nomination of Sen. E. Byrd of West Virginia to Supreme Court.

Byrd has the public record of a racist bigot. He was a gambler for the Ku Klux Klan in the 1940s, and despite his reputation of the KKKK weight of his words and shows that he is of the opinion still.

He has repeatedly made virulent speeches attacking black poor. One of his lines: "We can take the out of the slums but we take the slums out of the p. As chairman of the Appellate in the District of Columbia, he has a relentless oversight of a city that 70 percent black. Over, he has pressed city to be tougher in investment welfare recipients and in the man-in-the-house rule cuts women and children welfare rolls if a deserting can be shown to have visited home. And if the child hungry?

"We all get hungry," Byrd said. "But starvation is another thing. I have seen a famine of starvation in the district." Byrd voted again confirmation of Thurgood Marshall on the Supreme Court, voted for the nomination of Earl Warren.

There are no public or personal accomplishments of this dismal record. He graduated from law school. He has never passed the practical law. As a member the Senate, Byrd has sponsored no important bills or been named with any major act.

Instead, he has busied with the minor chores of housekeeping. He has kept of an unimpressive record, known which senators to insert an amendment is in untested material in the Congressional Record on behalf of colleagues, and patrolled the state chamber ordering theitorial staff assistants off the

Uriah Heep

By making himself the useful servant of other minor necessities, Byrd has the legislative ladder secretary of the Democratic and then to a whip. Serviceable and spoken, tolling and mollifying the Uriah Heep of the Senate. To send Byrd Supreme Court is to slay the fable of every black in America. It demands that it cut the legal professor members in local bar associations across the country bestir themselves to oppose the nomination. It rebuffs the of the American Bar Association selection committee, which 11 days ago showed itself tant to recommend the nation's previous nominee, experienced but far worth more attentive Rep. Nicholas

Nixon knows all that. It is precisely these aspects of Byrd's nomination that he has responded to the rejection of the completely unfortunate Clement Hay with the nomination of Earl Warren, he now to retaliate for the opposite of the incredible nation of Byrd.

In Byrd, the President found a nominee whose appeals and flatterings were as much as a nominee's Senate, in its craven clamor hardly fail to confess ready to honor and forward a man as Geo. Govern finds himself twisting turning with feeble rations and foolish remarks caught in the Nixon net.

The Supreme Court is of honor revered by abiding citizens. As you ball players dream of a Byrd nomination, young daydream of arguing a case the Supreme Court or one of those nine big black chairs. A Presidee keeper of certain public is there no adviser who to tell this President cheapening the court he himself and impairs the of perfect justice that inspire a lawful people?

Herald Tribune

Published with The New York Times and The Washington Post

Chairman John Hay Whitney

Co-Chairmen Katherine Graham Arthur Ochs Sulzberg

Publisher Robert T. MacDonald

Editor Murray M. Weiss

General Manager André Sing

George W. Bates, Managing Editor; Ray Yeager, Assistant Manager

Published and printed by International Herald Tribune at 21 Rue de Valenciennes, Paris-9e, Tel.: 236-30-00. Telex: 23-994 Herald, Paris; Cable: Herald, Paris.

Handwritten note in Arabic script.

كلمة من مصر

Obituaries

Chesty Puller, the Toughest Marine

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller, 73, whose heroic exploits in three wars, died yesterday in Hampton, Va.

When the war ended he served with the marines in Haiti, battling revolutionaries. After five years he was transferred to Hawaii to take charge of the rifle range and then to Nicaragua, where he led his troops in at least 80 battles against bandits.

Marine Regiment at the Inchon landing in 1950 in the Korean war. After a stiff battle with heavy casualties at Yongdo, his regiment reached the city gates at Seoul and then fought a block-by-block battle to regain the city.

Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller in retirement in 1965.

Sergei Kononov

Kononov, 97, Russian Dean Of Monumental Sculpture

MOSCOW, Oct. 12 (NYT)—Sergei T. Kononov, 97, the dean of Russian sculpture, died here Saturday.

years old and a successful artist by the time of the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917.

The Old Confederacy... he was born June 26, 1886, and reared in the Virginia town of Point on the stirring tales of Confederate veterans.

S. Considering V. Whitney, 72, for Spain Envoy

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Melvin Vanderbilt Whitney, 72, millionaire racehorse owner and former government official, is being considered for appointment as U.S. ambassador to Spain.

Rome's Jinxed Subway Drill Strikes Anew—Street Caves-in

ROME, Oct. 12 (AP)—Rome's trouble-prone subway construction project suffered another spectacular setback today when a giant underground drill caused a busy street to collapse.

stuck for hours after 600 feet of the four-lane street along the historic Muro Torio, or "rooked wall," buckled and crumbled.

Belgian Antique Dealer Held as Receiver of Stolen Art

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (UPI)—A well-known Belgian antique dealer, Georges Cliequet, was formally charged today with receiving stolen paintings in England.

Jewels, was arrested after 11 paintings, including one stolen recently from Buckingham Palace, were found on his premises.

RAF Jet Crash Kills Two Danes on Ground

AALBORG, Denmark, Oct. 12 (AP)—A mother and her 5-year-old son were killed today as a British Royal Air Force Phantom jet fighter, on a training mission in Denmark, crashed into a small farmhouse west of here, police said.

Final Vote Gives Kreisky A Majority Austrian Socialists End Minority Position

VIENNA, Oct. 12 (UPI)—A political gamble by Chancellor Bruno Kreisky paid off today with the final results of general elections giving his Socialist party the absolute majority in parliament.

Belfast Paint Factory Burns Ulster Arrests 15 IRA Suspects

BELFAST, Oct. 12 (AP)—Fifteen suspected members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army were arrested in police raids across Northern Ireland today.

factory. Four firemen, injured by exploding paint cans, were the only known casualties.

In other violence, armed raiders held up four post offices in Northern Ireland today and got away with about £300.

Post Offices Robbed... In Londonderry, two middle-aged women beat back a mob of rioters last night and rescued the besieged crew of a British armored car.

Cologne, Bonn Protests Mark Hirohito's Last Day in Europe

COLOGNE, Oct. 12 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito's last full day of his seven-nation European tour included an idyllic cruise down the picturesque Rhine river. But the day was marred by leftist demonstrations in Bonn and Cologne.

for the imperial couple at the dockside after they arrived from Bonn by special train.

Groups of Germans assembled in the Rhine-side towns on both sides of the river and waved as the visitors passed.

Thirty rioters poured paint over the carrier and tried to set it alight. "Suddenly two women pushed their way to the front of the crowd and physically beat them back with their fists," an army spokesman said.

I Dead, 8 Missing In Ship Collision

LA CORUNA, Spain, Oct. 12 (UPI)—The Spanish freighter Maria del Camino Terriere today collided with a Greek ship off the northern Spanish coast, broke in two and sank.

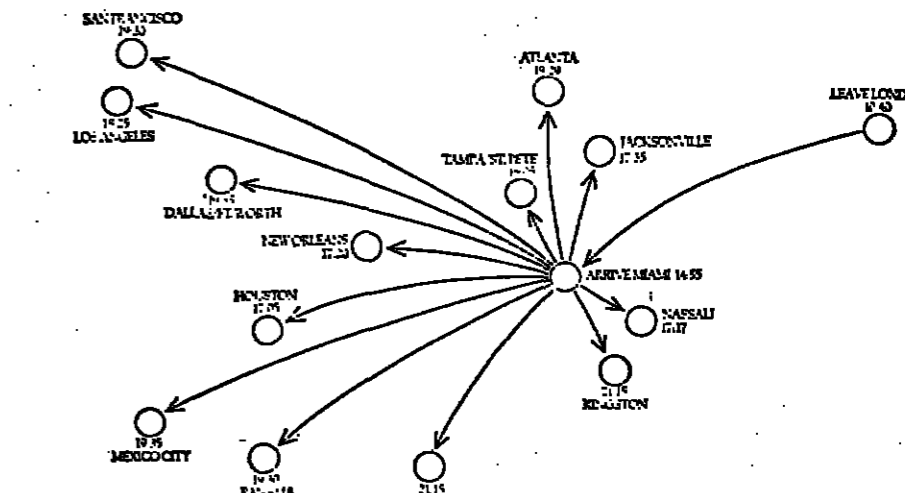

Marked Contrast... Today's series of incidents was in marked contrast to the generally friendly reception the emperor received on his arrival yesterday in the only country on his precedent-shattering tour that had been a wartime ally of Japan.

Several hundred Germans and Japanese, some with rising-sun flags, cheered and applauded the emperor and hoped to drown out the chanting demonstrators.

MANCHESTER, West Germany, Oct. 12 (AP)—The death toll during Atlantic alliance field exercises north of Munich stood at five today—three American and two German soldiers. There are 37,000 troops involved.

I'm Cheryl. Fly me to the Sunshine States of America.

You think I'm just another pretty face? I'm not. I'm a fresh attitude towards air travel to the States. A refreshingly honest definition of who we are, why we're special, and what we're doing to be even better.

Fly Cheryl Fly National Airlines. For reservations call your travel agent or National Airlines, 81 Piccadilly, London, W.1. (01 629 8272).

Turkish Reforms Aided by Agnew Embassy Talk

ANKARA, Oct. 12 (AP)—Vice-President Agnew told Americans in Ankara today that their day-long efforts could "solidify" progress of the Turkish government toward political, educational and land reforms.

Philippine Storm Kills at Least 15

MANILA, Oct. 12 (Reuters)—The third storm in a week smashed into the main northern Philippine island of Luzon tonight, leaving at least 15 people dead.

Arab Ambulance Blasted

GAZA CITY, Israeli-Occupied Gaza Strip, Oct. 12 (UPI)—Four persons were wounded today when an Arab ambulance hit a mine.

Italy Bank Slaying

SERAVEZZA, Italy, Oct. 12 (AP)—The local leader of the Communist CGIL labor union was shot and killed by a bandit today when he tried to foil a bank hold-up.

RAF Jet Crash Kills Two Danes on Ground

AALBORG, Denmark, Oct. 12 (AP)—A mother and her 5-year-old son were killed today as a British Royal Air Force Phantom jet fighter, on a training mission in Denmark, crashed into a small farmhouse west of here, police said.

RAF Jet Crash Kills Two Danes on Ground

The system has continuous run into problems. The most frequent has been the discovery of buried archaeological ruins.

RAF Jet Crash Kills Two Danes on Ground

Work had to be stopped for months and the buildings had to be evacuated. The new accident halted work again. It was not known how long the delay will be.

RAF Jet Crash Kills Two Danes on Ground

He took his doctorate in Berlin, where he was born, at the university there in 1923 and spent the next decade in Rome as an assistant and research fellow at the Biblioteca Apostolica Vaticana.

Advertisement for Caron Paris perfume, featuring a bottle and the text 'The famous makers of Fleurs de-Rocaille and Belloggia'.

Advertisement for Helene Dale perfumes, stating 'THE FINEST PERFUMES & GIFTS, ALL IN ONE SHOP' and 'EXPORT DISCOUNT ON THE SPOT'.

JAL flies

from Paris

through Moscow or over the Pole to Tokyo

every day at 13.00

except Saturday

JAPAN AIR LINES
the worldwide airline of Japan

PARIS THEATER

Curd Jurgens as Impresario

By Thomas Quinn Curtiss

PARIS, Oct. 12 (IHT).—Curd Jurgens, the trilingual Munich-born actor, more frequently seen on the stage than on the screen, has taken a long lease on the Théâtre Hébertot.

He has had the auditorium of that charming, early 19th-century playhouse of the Batignolles tastefully refurbished, and the other night he rang up the curtain on the first of his Parisian productions.

This is "Jeux d'Enfants," Pol Quentin's adaptation of the American success "Child's Play," by Robert Marasco, a sinister, gripping tale of sadism and murder in a boys' boarding school run by ecclesiastics. The force and the effectiveness of the Broadway hit have been retained in the translation, which shifts the scene to Europe. Otherwise, it is an exacting reproduction of the original staging, down to the brooding set of the gloomy institute, which Jo Mielstner came from New York to reconstruct.

The cast At the Hébertot, it is acted with striking competence by Raymond Jerome (who has directed), Jean Servais and Michel Le Royer as the masters; by a group of youngsters who fill about in the macabre shadows; and by Curd Jurgens, who takes the brief but important role of the school's distressed principal, serving as a commentator on the grisly events that occur. A psychological thriller of considerable substance, it provides a sound theater evening.

Encouraged by its popularity—"Child's Play" enjoyed a two-season run in New York—its American producer, David Merrick, has selected it as his initial venture in motion pictures. It is soon to be filmed, with Sidney Lumet directing.

Mr. Jurgens, son of a French mother and a German father, is dedicated to the theater. He began his career as an actor in Vienna and rose to become a star of the great Burgtheater there, playing in a repertory of Shakespeare, Goethe and Molière, winning the Joseph Kainz prize, the highest award of the German-speaking stage. He gave distinguished performances in German in Brecht's "Galileo" and Osborne's "Inadmissible Evidence" and won critical praise in Paris when he appeared as Freud in "Le Fil Rouge," a translation of an American play that presented a sort of Reader's Digest version of the work and life of the father of psychoanalysis.

The morning following his opening, Mr. Jurgens discussed his projects for theater production in his apartment on the Champs-Élysées. A tall man of rather military bearing, he has an easy smile. He sat, clad in a Cardin dressing gown, at a breakfast table, pouring Viennese coffee from a silver urn.

"It is my hope to establish a modern theater in Paris, one devoted neither to the classics nor to the boulevard—for certainly those needs are amply met. My ambition is to have a theater in which contemporary plays of intellectual interest will have a hearing, and I intend to present a repertory as international as possible," he began. "I've just completed my third movie this year and I can now concentrate on the theater," he said.

Permanent Company

"There is an example of what I should like to do. First, I want to form a permanent company and invite stars to make guest appearances with us for limited runs. In Vienna there is an absolutely first-rate production of Schnitzler's 'Fraulein Elsa.' I would take my actors there to see it and study it and then reproduce it in a French version. In addition to the main theater, I have a rehearsal hall at Curd Jurgens, who has taken a long lease on the Théâtre Hébertot and has opened his first production.

the Hébertot that seats 300. This I will use for intimate studio productions of an experimental nature. Jean-Claude Carrière has translated John Aubrey's 'Brief Lives.' Perhaps you saw it in London two or three years ago. It is really a one-man recital based on the gossip journals of the 17th-century scholar, a member of Charles II's court. In the dramatization he, a crutchy but witty old man, is in his study recalling the scandals of the Restoration nobility. I want to play the part myself in the Hébertot studio.

"I also have under consideration a new play by Henry Denker, 'Headhunters.' He wrote 'The Red Thread,' but his latest drama hasn't been produced as yet in the United States. Perhaps it will have its world premiere at the Hébertot. Pinter, Osborne, Bond, Albee are playwrights who interest me greatly and their work expresses what I term the modern theater. I just read a startling English play, 'Slag,' by a new dramatist, David Hare."

Mr. Jurgens believes that the famous German actor Fritz Kortner, who died last year, was the greatest single influence on his career.

"I learned whatever I know from him—not from his acting really, though he was often very fine—but in our conversations over coffee. He had an encyclopedic knowledge of world theater and a wisdom about the practical side of acting and direction that was the greatest I have ever encountered."

The American Center for Students and Artists is presenting a theater festival. It opened yesterday and will continue through Oct. 31. Each evening at 8:30, through Oct. 17, "Les Membres de la Famille" by Camille, will be acted together with "Le Pigeon" by Alicia Guerra. From Oct. 18 through Oct. 24 a double bill, Mannoni's "Dites-le, Dites-le" and Guerdon's "Le Train des Fantômes," will be seen. From Oct. 25 through Oct. 31 "Monsieur le Commissaire" by René Escudé, and "Des Grands Comme des Petits" by Veron, will hold the boards.

Music in Cologne: Plastic Nightmare in Multi-Media

By Betty Falkenberg

COLOGNE, Oct. 12 (IHT).—"Hysteria," which was given for the first time in Cologne on two nights over the weekend, is a plastic nightmare in multi-media. This "opera" is a synthesis of music, text and kinetic art. It is the product of team work, and its authors are Dieter Schoenbach, music; Dieter Wellershoff, text; and Edmund Kieselbach, kinetics.

To produce it at all, someone must have sat on a golden egg; yet, less would have been more. For one hour and 15 minutes, with the most lavish technical means a modern theater can muster, we are told that we are dupes of a consumer society and slaves of technology. The best proof of all this, of course, is "Hysteria" itself, the ultimate product of the culture it pretends to abhor.

The curtain opens on a painting of a dead woman coughed up by the sea, surrounded by Dali-like drippings and reproduced in different sizes across the stage.

The music, largely citation collage and pompously got up, was not always recognizable, so that its function often remained obscure. The text was best when the words got dismembered, their parts thrown around in rhythmical canons.

It is tedious to have to remind oneself that Rimbaud, Artaud, Beckett and many more have been here before.

We are all robots, we live in glass cages, we all mouth the same clichés. Neon lights, like electrodes, bombard our brains. When we are not outside being trampled down by highways, we are inside gagging on our own dream-kitsch as we swallow it straight from our TV screens. Plastic pythons invade our homes, bringing us heat and other "comforts." We inhabit furnished souls, and we all scream to get out.

There is something suspect about the moral exhibitionism of this three-ring circus. Of course there are startling effects, particularly in the kinetic sphere. But too often they are startling, not so much because they are original but because they are so slickly executed.

In the program notes, Mr. Wellershoff says, "Someone dreams, we get inside his dream." But dreams have an inner logic, a vision lacking in "Hysteria," which merely exploits the sado-pornographic vogue, often on the level of low cabaret, while its authors indulge in glibly-speak about nightmare vision.

There is a bride, her gown ripped off by monsters, hanging half-naked in mid-air on chains, looking about her situation to the background music of orgasmic moans while the symbolism clanks with heavy chains. An old married pair is transported across the stage on a kind of ski lift (we are all transported mechanically, on an assembly line. Get it?), facing each other across an imaginary breakfast table, spewing reproaches at each other.

Were this a more modest production, one could excuse the sloppiness of the pantomime, the occasional inadequacies of the acting. One would certainly want to praise the impressive sets and kinetic constructions, but one wonders how much their effects depend on pure technology. Throughout there is an ambiguity of intention, apparent, for example, when the music soars to Cecil B. De Mille heights. Is the parody intended?

The aimed-at synthesis hardly ever works. One element nearly always dominates another. Most of the texts are spoken, not sung; there is one absurd operatic parody inserted irrelevantly somewhere in the middle. It just isn't very funny.

Nothing is funny, nothing is shocking. Everything is dished up to titillate.

Paris

Rhoda Scott Is in Love With Music

By Frank Van Brakle

PARIS, Oct. 12 (IHT).—Rhoda Scott plays the organ as if she were in love with her music, her instrument and her life. She's at home with the blues, Basie, Bach or Beethoven, and, playing in her stocking feet, she gives herself completely, enthusiastically to the music.

Arthur Rubinstein calls her a "very great virtuoso," and that was evident last night at the Olympia where she held an audience of 2,000 in awe of her technique as she played about 20 compositions, some of them her own. Her renditions of "Ebb Tide," Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata and a melody from "West Side Story" were worth the price of admission.

She's not just a jazz organist—although she mostly plays jazz—because there is a recognizable classical background which frames her jazz technique.

Rhoda Scott, a success at the Olympia.

Miss Scott has turned singer, too, with a small but pleasant voice. She sang Barbra Streisand's "People" and an Edith Piaf song in French which took courage before a Paris audience.

She was ably assisted by Joe Thomas on tenor sax and flute and Cornelius Kraenburg on drums. But it was a one-woman show.

Entertainment in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—This is how two new plays were rated by New York Times critic Clive Barnes:

"Solitaire, Double Solitaire," two plays by Robert Anderson ("Tea and Sympathy" and "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running"), which opened on Broadway at the John Golden Theater, got a good and a fair notice from Clive Barnes. Sam, the hero in the curtain raiser, whose work is dictating books to machines in a 1984-type nightmare world, "looks back at his old-style marriage and wants consolation," explains Barnes, so he rents a family to re-create times past.

"The idea is a good one," says the reviewer, "but does not lend itself to much dramatic development and remains little more than a quaint thing that happened to the hero on his way to the incinerator."

But the second play (about a middle-aged couple whose marriage is crumbling) saves the evening in a series of "sharp, short sketches, meant to display the situation and ending with a dialogue that is to resolve what two lonely people feel about their marriage," says Barnes. "It is a strange structure, yet it works." Richard Venture, Ruth Nelson and Joyce Ebert lead the company.

Art in Spain

Capel, Galeria René Mebrás, 331 Consejo de Ciento, Barcelona, to Oct. 13.

This exhibition of pencil drawings on paper is by Capel, one of the very few primitive Spanish artists of today. Most of the drawings are of female nudes—as if Capel had just discovered the wonder of the female body—drawn in lead but sometimes with blue hair or a touch of color. The women are put down with affection and a dry humor. Only one painting is shown—in the gallery window—which makes me feel what a pity that Capel would not let the gallery show what he can do with paint. Different and interesting.

—SHEILA ANNE DE BARRY.

POLAND

Grotowski in Warsaw

WARSAW, Oct. 12 (IHT).—Jerzy Grotowski, the creator of Poland's Laboratory Theater, is paying his first visit to Warsaw in 10 years after having been acclaimed abroad as a leader of the avant-garde theater.

Based in Wrocław and seen infrequently even there, Mr. Grotowski's experimental theater has attracted intense interest, and some criticism, now that he is performing in the Polish capital.

Every day last week hundreds of theater enthusiasts waited for several hours in front of the Gothic-styled powder warehouse in Warsaw's old town to see what was originally known here as the "Poor Theater."

Those lucky enough to have an invitation saw the "Apocalypse Cum Figuralis," the same spectacle seen in New York two years ago. But only the most persistent invitees succeeded—because lines began to form at noon for evening performances.

Word of Mouth

News of Mr. Grotowski's presence in Warsaw was spread almost entirely by word of mouth, but even that was enough to more than fill the theater. In the Laboratory Theater, the number of spectators is usually limited to 50 persons who are seated around the stage and remain close to the actors.

The crush prompted the director to increase the number of scheduled performances from 10 to 16 and to permit up to 100 persons to watch each show. But the number of disappointed increased each day.

Some of those turned away were finally able to meet the enigmatic director on Sunday, however, at what was supposed to have been a noon news conference. It turned into a four-hour town meeting.

There were few press and theater representatives. The overwhelming majority in the audience of the Ateneum Theater, a conventional arena, were young people. They listened intently as Grotowski, dressed in casual black clothes and sandals, expounded his views.

'Search'

"What we are doing can be said to be a search for a style of life, a search for human contact, a search for answers to the question 'how to live in order to be able to live?'" Mr. Grotowski said.

"I happen to work in the field of theater," he said, "but if I found myself in another profession I would be looking for the same answers, I hope."

The director said that the group had decided unanimously to take on several new students "to renew

Jerzy Grotowski in New York

our mutual curiosity in other."

He also disclosed that decided not to go on a sign tour during the next Nor would the group take foreign apprentices, he said would spend their time on a new project.

"We are entering a new of our development and to take on new challenges said. "Life goes by as cannot remain fixated point. One cannot rest achievements."

Mormons Crit Of Rock Music 'Superstar'

SALT LAKE CITY, (AP).—The rock opera Christ, Superstar" has sharply criticized by the of Jesus Christ of La Sainte.

The first presidency Mormon Church issued ment which said that the considers the musical fane and sacrilegious atts true Christianity."

The show is to be pres Salt Lake City's Salt P: night as scheduled, the c of the Salt Palace board

Christie's in W. Ge

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP). tie's auction house has at that the firm has been license to operate in W many a company hopes that negotiations to obt mission from the West authorities began in 15 new office. Christie, M Woods will be in Dussel first sale will be held ne:

PARIS AMUSEMENTS

LIDO
Nightly at 11 p.m. and 1.15 a.m.
Grand Prix
MINIMUM PER PERSON
TAX AND TIP INCLUDED
63F with 1/2 bottle
at 7.00
OR
68F with 1/2 bottle
and 1/2 bottle
at 7.00
DINNER-DANCE AT 8.30 P.M.
RESERVATIONS: ELY 11-51

SALLE PLEYEL
Wednesday, October 13, at 9 p.m.
3d and last concert
CHOPIN FESTIVAL
4 Solists (Polish)—Funeral Sonata
Scherzo—Mazurka—Nocturne
NIEDZIEMSKI
Bookings: Salle Pleyel, Durand
(p.e. Kleban)

Théâtre des Champs-Élysées, Monday, October 18, at 9 p.m. (Vale)
Christian
Recital
at the piano: Jean-Claude AMBROSI
Beckma - Bartok - J.S. Bach

MONTE-CARLO D.V.
STUDIO LOGOS D.V.

"A Boy Named Charlie Brown"
(LES PEANUTS)
A LEE WELLSHAW-BALL WELLSHAW PRODUCTION - BILL WELLSHAW
CHARLES H. SCHULZ - LEE WELLSHAW - BILL WELLSHAW
AND THE WELLSHAW BROTHERS - WEEZE GRANLEY - JIM CROFT THEATRE
TECHNICIAN - JIM WELLSHAW CENTER PLUS PRESENTATION
SUB-TITLES AND SONG BY SERGE GAINSBY

To the author (or organization) in search of a publisher

You are invited to send for a free, illustrated brochure which explains how your book (or your organization's) can be published, promoted and marketed.

Whether your subject is fiction, non-fiction or poetry, scientific, scholarly, specialized (even controversial) this handsome 52-page brochure will show you how to arrange for prompt publication.

Unpublished authors, especially, will find this booklet valuable and informative. For your free copy, or more information, fill in and mail the coupon.

Mail Coupon for your Free Copy

Vantage Press, Inc. Dept. HN-1
516 W. 43rd St., New York, N.Y. 10018.

Please send me a complimentary copy of "To the Author in Search of a Publisher."

Name

Address

City

State

Zip

Offices in Washington, D.C. and Hollywood, Calif.

LE BISNON ETOILE
63 Rue Pierre-Charron
Paris-8e - 330-78-78

Is it only
A FIRST-CLASS RESTAURANT
but also
AN ELEGANT BAR AND COMFORTABLE TEA ROOM

Japan Boosts Government Outlays

Oct. 12 (AP-DJ)—The cabinet today approved supplemental budget for fiscal year ending March 31, 1972...

Projected GNP Growth Halved

Oct. 12 (AP-DJ)—The cabinet today approved supplemental budget for fiscal year ending March 31, 1972...

Japan Reopens Negotiations Textile Pact With U.S.

Oct. 12 (Reuters)—The cabinet decided to open negotiations with the United States to reopen official discussions with the United States...

Oct. 12 (Reuters)—The cabinet decided to open negotiations with the United States to reopen official discussions with the United States...

Oct. 12 (Reuters)—The cabinet decided to open negotiations with the United States to reopen official discussions with the United States...

EEC to Reduce Investment Aid in Developed Areas

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Governments of the Common Market countries have agreed to a 20 percent limit on official regional aid to private investment...

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Governments of the Common Market countries have agreed to a 20 percent limit on official regional aid to private investment...

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Governments of the Common Market countries have agreed to a 20 percent limit on official regional aid to private investment...

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Governments of the Common Market countries have agreed to a 20 percent limit on official regional aid to private investment...

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Governments of the Common Market countries have agreed to a 20 percent limit on official regional aid to private investment...

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Governments of the Common Market countries have agreed to a 20 percent limit on official regional aid to private investment...

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Governments of the Common Market countries have agreed to a 20 percent limit on official regional aid to private investment...

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Governments of the Common Market countries have agreed to a 20 percent limit on official regional aid to private investment...

Competitive Threat Seen

U.S. Stock Exchanges Fight Challenge From OTC Unit

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP-DJ)—Though the opposing sides will not publicly admit it, a bitter struggle for influence in the securities markets of the future is being waged between stock exchanges...

Floating Rates Win Approval From Citibank

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—First National City Bank, the nation's largest bank internationally, called yesterday for "an orderly system of floating exchange rates" as the best way out of the present international financial crisis.

RCA Reports $231 Million Quarter Loss

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—RCA Corp. today reported a third-quarter loss of $231 million due to its previously announced withdrawal from the general-purpose computer field.

Airlines Star in N.Y., But Dow Up Only 1.61

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (NYT)—New York Stock Exchange prices posted only a token advance today, despite the apparent removal of a stumbling block on the economic recovery front.

SHERATON NOW OPEN IN TEHRAN, IRAN. The beautiful Aria-Sheraton Hotel is located in quiet, picturesque northern Tehran overlooking the city and the Alborz Mountains. Only a 10 minute drive from downtown. And 15 minutes from the airport.

Hunter Douglas Plans New Home, Stock Dividend. ROTTERDAM, Oct. 12 (AP-DJ)—Hunter Douglas of Canada announced plans today for establishing a new parent company and a capital reorganization that would include a 20 percent stock dividend.

IATA Said to Ready Talks On New Transatlantic Rates. AMSTERDAM, Oct. 12 (Reuters)—KLM Royal Dutch Airlines said today the International Air Transport Association (IATA) has scheduled a meeting for Oct. 28 in Lausanne, Switzerland.

European Gold Markets. Oct. 12, '71. London, Zurich, Paris, U.S. dollars per ounce.

Money Grows Faster at the BPP. Deposit Account - 5 1/4% to 8 1/4% Bank Deposit Bonds - up to 7 1/2% Investment Plans in Swiss and foreign Funds Other higher-yield investment possibilities.

Join Us In U.S. REAL ESTATE SYNDICATION Closing Now! We are buying a completed and occupied U.S. apartment complex that gives 8 1/2% tax free annual cash yield with additional equity build-up through mortgage repayment of 10-15% per year.

DIAMONDS Save 50% on single diamonds direct from the factory of wholesale prices call 18-28-83 or visit: SIDDIAM 1509 Marjani Center 15th Floor 9 a.m. daily till 6 p.m. Saturday till 4 p.m. 1000 BRUSSELS (Place Rogier).

One Dollar— LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP-DJ)—The following are the bid or offer international exchange rates for the dollar on the major international exchanges:

European Gold Markets. Oct. 12, '71. London, Zurich, Paris, U.S. dollars per ounce.

Money Grows Faster at the BPP. Deposit Account - 5 1/4% to 8 1/4% Bank Deposit Bonds - up to 7 1/2% Investment Plans in Swiss and foreign Funds Other higher-yield investment possibilities.

Join Us In U.S. REAL ESTATE SYNDICATION Closing Now! We are buying a completed and occupied U.S. apartment complex that gives 8 1/2% tax free annual cash yield with additional equity build-up through mortgage repayment of 10-15% per year.

DIAMONDS Save 50% on single diamonds direct from the factory of wholesale prices call 18-28-83 or visit: SIDDIAM 1509 Marjani Center 15th Floor 9 a.m. daily till 6 p.m. Saturday till 4 p.m. 1000 BRUSSELS (Place Rogier).

One Dollar— LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP-DJ)—The following are the bid or offer international exchange rates for the dollar on the major international exchanges:

MODERN MEXICO EXCELLENT YIELDS IN MEXICAN BANK SECURITIES. As an alert investor, we suggest you investigate the benefits offered by the outstanding, controlled economic development now taking place in Latin America's leading example of stable, responsible, government and business.

New York Stock Exchange Trading

Main table of stock market data with columns for stock names, prices, and volume. Includes sections for 'High, Low, Div. in $', '100s, First, High Low Last, Chgs', and 'Net High, Low, Div. in $'.

Eurodollars

Table of Eurodollars with columns for Bid, Asked, and Chopped.

WATCH OUT FOR MORE MONEY!

... If you want TAX-FREE money ... go Austrian Lottery. ... If you want to know more about the Austrian Lottery, write today, using coupon, for brochure and ticket application form to J. B. PROKOPF, the official distributor.

For Banks and Financial Institutions NET TRADING MARKETS in all Swiss and American O-T-C Stocks BANK WIDENBERG & CO. LTD. 5022 ZURICH SWITZERLAND Tel: (01) 27 06 90

Continuation of stock market data from the main table, including various stock names and their corresponding prices.

New York Stock Exchange Trading

Table of New York Stock Exchange trading data, including columns for stock symbols, prices, and volume.

Table of international stock market data, including columns for country, stock symbols, and prices.

U.S. Commodity Prices

Table of U.S. commodity prices for various goods like wheat, corn, and soybeans, with columns for item, price, and date.

Hunter Douglas Group announcement regarding corporate structure changes, including details about the group's composition and the impact on shareholders.

INTERNATIONAL FUNDS

Table listing various international funds, their assets, and performance metrics.

Advertisement for Caribbean Depository Company N.V., detailing services for depositors and shareholders, including information on CDRs and HDNVs.

American Stock Exchange Trading

Main table containing American Stock Exchange trading data, including columns for stock symbols, prices, and market indices. It is organized into sections like 'A', 'B', 'C', 'D', 'E', 'F', 'G', 'H', 'I', 'J', 'K', 'L', 'M', 'N', 'O', 'P', 'Q', 'R', 'S', 'T', 'U', 'V', 'W', 'X', 'Y', 'Z'.

European Markets

(Yesterday's closing prices in local currencies)

Amsterdam

Table of Amsterdam market data including stock prices and indices.

Brussels

Table of Brussels market data including stock prices and indices.

Düsseldorf

Table of Düsseldorf market data including stock prices and indices.

London

Table of London market data including stock prices and indices.

Zurich

Table of Zurich market data including stock prices and indices.

International Bonds Traded in Europe Foreign Stock Indexes

Table of International Bonds Traded in Europe.

Table of Foreign Stock Indexes.

Table of Dollar Bonds.

Table of Midday Indicated Prices.

Table of Floating Rates.

Table of Convertible Bonds.

Table of Bondtrade-Index.

Announces that the annual general meeting of shareholders has been scheduled on Tuesday, 13th November, 1971, at the offices of the Corporation in Clapham, Surrey, England.

GRAMCO INTERNATIONAL S.A.

Announces that the annual general meeting of shareholders has been scheduled on Tuesday, 13th November, 1971, at the offices of the Corporation in Clapham, Surrey, England.

I Want to contact experienced mutual fund managers who can organize and supervise men in the field.

Call WILLIAMS. M. WILLIAMS. London 537-3708.

Advertisement for The 22 carat Scotch whisky, featuring a bottle image and the text 'Rare as Gold. Pale as in gold. With the hallmark of Justerini and Brooks & B Rare. The 22 carat Scotch.'

Advertisement for The Wolt Corporation, featuring a large '5' graphic and text: 'The Wolt Corporation. ONE MILLION D-MARKS TAX FREE. WITH A TICKET 500 DEUTSCHE MARK. LOTTERY! Every second ticket is a winner! Tickets at: DM 500 - 5 110 - for DM 1000 - 5 220 - for DM 2000 - 5 440 - for DM 4000 - 5 880 - for the entire 6-month LOTTERY FREE! I Want to contact experienced mutual fund managers who can organize and supervise men in the field. Call WILLIAMS. M. WILLIAMS. London 537-3708.'

Toronto Stocks

Table of Toronto stock market data including closing prices on Oct. 12, 1971, for various companies like ALS, BHP, and others.

Mutual Funds

Table of mutual fund closing prices on Oct. 12, 1971, listing various funds such as Fidelity, American Mutual, and others.

American Stock Exchange Trading

Large table of American stock exchange trading data, including stock symbols, prices, and trading volumes.

Table of Montreal stock market data, listing various stocks and their prices.

Advertisement for Trader Vic's restaurant, located at Bayerischer Hof, München, Prinsengracht, 44.

Herald Tribune

Large advertisement for the Herald Tribune featuring a 25% discount on new subscriptions and a 6-month subscription offer.

REAL ESTATE & BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

Advertisement for TORRALTA - Club Internacional de Férias, S. L. R. L., located in Avenida Duque de Loulé, 66-A, Lisbon, Portugal.

Advertisement for Fincasa S.p.A. featuring real estate investment opportunities in the Bahamas, U.S. land, and commercial real estate in Washington D.C.

PEANUTS

B.C.

GIL ABNER

BEEBLE BAILEY

MISS PEACH

BUZ SAWYER

WIZARD of ID

REX MORGAN M.D.

POCO

RIP KIRBY

BLONDIE

BRIDGE

By Alan Truscott

On the diagramed deal from a N.Y. team championship North and South for the winners reached the excellent club slam. After South opened with one club and his partner bid one spade, East's intervention of two diamonds gave South a re-bid problem.

have taken a second-round finesse and gone down two tricks, losing the slam and the tournament title.

In the replay East opened three diamonds and South doubled. West then made an imaginative psychic bid of three no-trump. This successfully confused the issue for North-South, who reached four spades.

WEST: ♠ 932, ♥ 742, ♦ 1095, ♣ J84. EAST (D): ♠ J75, ♥ K6, ♦ AJ87632, ♣ 5. SOUTH: ♠ K8, ♥ A53, ♦ Q4, ♣ AKQ1063.

Both sides were vulnerable. The bidding: East 1♣, South 1♠, West 1♦, North 1NT, East 2♦, South 2♠, West 3NT, North 4♠, East 4♠, South 5♠, West 5♠, North 5♠.

West led the diamond ten.

Solution to Previous Puzzle: BEARS STRAIN, DECLAIM PAINTER, ATLANTIA ARHEWTSO, CRIB DIBBLEWCSO, HOPS PIESE MSKIN, AHSRAAPE SEIAE, HEALED NEURON, BONE TOPI, CLERIC INTACT, FLUES TISM SLEET, RAITS ASHEN SHNO, EVE ALTIEMOR LIAI, NAGED IOTYAD IING, STANDON STRINTS, ELLAIS RANGES.

DENNIS THE MENACE

JUMBLE

Unscramble these four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words. DROAR, LUFET, NECBOK, SEMQUO. Print the SURPRISE ANSWER here.

BOOKS

HONOR THY FATHER

By Gay Talese. Illustrated. World. 526 pp. Reviewed by Christopher Lehmann-Haupt.

LONG after one has finished reading it, one comes to the conclusion that had it not been for its technique, Gay Talese's "Honor Thy Father" might have been a masterpiece of reportage. Consider, first, its subject is important and irresistible, for whether or not the Mafia really deserves such unrelenting attention, the daily headlines, the law-enforcement officials of the land and the fantasies of little old ladies in tennis sneakers have trained us to wonder about it endlessly.

Second, Talese's book manages to capture this irresistible subject at a particularly dramatic moment in its history. For in the mid-1960s, when Talese began his research, a national commission of Mafia chieftains was working away to undermine the powers of New York boss Joseph Bonanno, and the so-called Joseph Vito that ensued, as well as the alienations from government crime-busters it attracted, may turn out in the long run to have destroyed the Mafia's predominant influence in American organized crime.

Third, Talese covers his irresistible subject in its most interesting point of view. For while researching "Honor Thy Father," he managed, through a combination of luck, reportorial savvy, patience and sensitivity, to win the trust and friendship of Salvatore (Bill) Bonanno and his family. And, as it turned out, Bill Bonanno was to play what might be called, somewhat perversely, a tragic role in the drama of the Mafia in the 1960s.

The oldest son of the powerful Joe Bonanno, Bill, might be described as having been born with a set of silver knuckles in his mouth. An arthritic child, he spent his youth in Arizona with everything a growing American boy could ask for—cars, legitimate businesses, membership in the Boy Scouts and the ROTC, sunny Arizona, girl friends—everything except the warmth of home life.

But perhaps because of that, he grew up in awe of and deeply loyal to his father's way of life. Eventually, he proved to be one of the few members of his generation with the brains, the toughness and the self-discipline to step into his father's line of work. Yet ironically it was his father's recognition of this fact and his decision to acknowledge it by promoting Bill to No. 3 man in his "family," that was to arouse the jealousy that caused the war that tumbled the house that Jack built. It is from this complex and interesting man's point of view that "Honor Thy Father" is told.

Finally, Talese uses all this extraordinary material to reach

CROSSWORD

Crossword puzzle grid with clues: ACROSS: 1 Capital in S. A., 5 Like a minx, 9 Leader, to Hero, 14 Jeune, 15 Helm position, 16 Egg-shaped, 17 Political exposure device, 19 — firma, 20 Multiply, 21 True's partner, 22 Symbol of remorse, 23 Food from cassava, 26 Passes, 28 Mighty mite, 31 Vestment, 32 Fruit juice, 33 Paddock papa, 34 Plugs, 35 Moss Hart book, 40 Huff and puff, 41 Tea or wine man, 45 "... love, ... war", 46 Nevada city, 47 Elaine's plea, 49 British miner, 51 Strings group, 55 Beldam, 57 Rabbit ears, 59 Enraged, 60 Sad, 61 Part of a decathlon, 62 Discourteous, 63 Plant modified by environment, 64 Give up, 65 Heroic poetry, 66 Period, with "on", DOWN: 1 Vampire, 2 Golfbag items, 3 Miller from Rochester, 4 Idolized, 5 S. A. rodent, 6 Flexible, 7 Gave out new hands, 8 Kickoff gadget, 9 Bingo's parent, 10 Cloudy, 11 Change, 12 To be: Fr., 13 Decip, 18 Take t, 24 Soup, 25 Reput, 1948, 27 Gale, 29 Whet, 30 Coms, 31 Drove, 32 Jacke, 33 Jacke, 37 Victo: maide, pract, 39 Cowa, 42 — sayin, 43 Cress, 44 Twist, 48 One c breed, 50 Brou, 52 In res, 53 Vichy, 54 Unke, 55 Base, 56 Streu, 58 Fools, 60 Evan, Gram.

Handwritten Arabic text at the bottom left corner.

Robertson Homers in World Series

Pirates Cut Orioles' Lead 2-1 on Blass 3-Hitter

By Joseph Durso

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 12 (UPI).—Blass pitched the Pirates back from the brink of stopping the Orioles on three hits for victory in the first game of the 1971 World Series.

Right-hander, 29, from Canada, allowed no hits until Brooks Robinson in the ninth and no runs until run by Frank Robinson seventh. And the only other allowed was a single by Robinson in the ninth.

As a result, the Orioles extended their first defeat after eight victories in the series after a 1-0 loss to the Pirates in the first game of the series.

But he did, facing only 23 batters and allowing only three hits plus two walks striking out eight. He was, conceded manager Earl Weaver of Baltimore, "excellent, excellent."

"He had a great fastball and good breaking stuff," Weaver said. "I don't know if he has it every day, but he had it today. I hope he can't come back with it after three days of rest."

For a while, though, it appeared possible that Blass would pitch—and lose—today. While he was keeping the Orioles lifeless until the fifth, his teammates were resorting to their old trick of getting men on base and leaving them there, an expensive trick that had failed.

But a little started when used home plate and Willie B. Greengard hit with a home run. "That's the way to do it," Blass said.

But at least today they had a three-game deficit, is something no team has.

Plates, now will try to the Series tomorrow in the night game in World Series, but they will still be the odds. Their pitcher, Walker, won only 10 games in 1970.

But at least today they had a three-game deficit, is something no team has.

against a bunch of opportunists like the Birds. He did get the benefit of a fast lead, when the Pirates finally started to live up to the spy report on them delivered by Jim Russo, chief scout for Baltimore: "They come out swinging. They hit the first ball."

This time, Dave Cash opened the inning by hitting the first ball thrown by Cuellar, a 34-year-old Cuban left-hander who had not pitched in eight days and who showed it. Then Al Oliver followed with a grounder wide of first base that Rogo Powell fielded deep. But his throw to the bag went behind Cuellar for an error while Cash made it to third.

The error proved costly as once again Roberto Clemente hit a grounder to Dave Johnson at second base for a sacrifice on Oliver while Cash scored. When Willie Stargell walked on four pitches, Weaver hustled to the mound for a consultation with Cuellar.

If he advised his pitcher to get the next batter to lift the ball in the general direction of Brooks Robinson, the strategy worked. Brooks caught a sizzling line drive by Robertson and threw to second for a double play.

"That made it 1-0, but that was all the comfort the Pirates gave Blass in return for his stylish pitching. Blass said he was "aware" that he had a no-hitter going into the fifth, and when Brooks Robinson lined a one-out single to left-center, he was aware that the tying run was on base. But two grounders got him out of that mix.

Then, in the sixth, he started by walking Cuellar, but this time got him out. And finally, in the bottom of the sixth, he got a little breathing room—one more run. He got it when Manny Sanguillen led with a single to right center and inserted it into a double with a head-first slide ahead of Rettenmund's late throw. Again, the lapse cost the Orioles more than red faces. Jose Pagan followed with a single down the left-field line and just like that it was 2-0 Pirates.

Blass in making later, the Orioles showed their second-strike capability when Frank Robinson drove his home run into the lower left-field grandstand, making it a 3-1 game. It was his second home run of the Series and his eighth in 22 Series games in both the National and American Leagues.

But that was as close as Baltimore got. In the bottom of the ninth, Brooks Robinson hit a home run to tie the game, but he was out in the next at-bat.

PHOENIX SUNS. In Cotton Fitzsimmons's first season as coach, the Suns posted their best record since they joined the league as an expansion team for the 1968-69 season. After a poor first half Phoenix tied with Los Angeles for the fourth best record in the NBA (48-34).

Fitzsimmons stressed defense and Phoenix was one of the four teams that scored more points (113.8) than they allowed (111.9).

Phoenix had two 30-point scorers, Dick Van Arman and Connie Hawkins. The Suns also got a good rebounding season from 6-7 Paul Silas, acquired from Atlanta before the 1969-70 season.

The Suns have obtained Otto Moore from the Detroit Pistons to bolster the middle.

Pacific Division. GOLDEN STATE WARRIORS. The Warriors have been seeking a high-scoring forward ever since Rick Barry defected to the ABA. They have gambled that Cassie Russell can fill the bill as a scorer, and that his cheerleader tactics can sell tickets, something the franchise needs badly.

Russell didn't come cheaply, however, Dick Van Arman and Connie Hawkins. The Suns also got a good rebounding season from 6-7 Paul Silas, acquired from Atlanta before the 1969-70 season.

HOUSTON ROCKETS. A group, headed by Wayne Duddleson, a real estate broker, and Billy Goldberg, a banker, purchased the San Diego franchise and shifted it to Houston.

SEATTLE SUPERSONICS. Seattle is the team to beat in this division. Len Wilkens, the playing coach, says so, and in between court appearances last season, Spencer Haywood started proving it.

In the 33 games Haywood played after jumping from the Denver Rockets of the ABA, he averaged 20.5 points and 12 rebounds and helped the Sonics close in a rush and finish three games away from a playoff berth. Another plus is the return of Bob Rule, who missed all but four games with an Achilles tear. Rule, who has played center, may be better suited for forward. He averaged 24.6 a game in his last full season.

SEATTLE SUPERSONICS. Seattle is the team to beat in this division. Len Wilkens, the playing coach, says so, and in between court appearances last season, Spencer Haywood started proving it.

In the 33 games Haywood played after jumping from the Denver Rockets of the ABA, he averaged 20.5 points and 12 rebounds and helped the Sonics close in a rush and finish three games away from a playoff berth. Another plus is the return of Bob Rule, who missed all but four games with an Achilles tear. Rule, who has played center, may be better suited for forward. He averaged 24.6 a game in his last full season.

SEATTLE SUPERSONICS. Seattle is the team to beat in this division. Len Wilkens, the playing coach, says so, and in between court appearances last season, Spencer Haywood started proving it.

In the 33 games Haywood played after jumping from the Denver Rockets of the ABA, he averaged 20.5 points and 12 rebounds and helped the Sonics close in a rush and finish three games away from a playoff berth. Another plus is the return of Bob Rule, who missed all but four games with an Achilles tear. Rule, who has played center, may be better suited for forward. He averaged 24.6 a game in his last full season.

SEATTLE SUPERSONICS. Seattle is the team to beat in this division. Len Wilkens, the playing coach, says so, and in between court appearances last season, Spencer Haywood started proving it.

In the 33 games Haywood played after jumping from the Denver Rockets of the ABA, he averaged 20.5 points and 12 rebounds and helped the Sonics close in a rush and finish three games away from a playoff berth. Another plus is the return of Bob Rule, who missed all but four games with an Achilles tear. Rule, who has played center, may be better suited for forward. He averaged 24.6 a game in his last full season.

SEATTLE SUPERSONICS. Seattle is the team to beat in this division. Len Wilkens, the playing coach, says so, and in between court appearances last season, Spencer Haywood started proving it.

In the 33 games Haywood played after jumping from the Denver Rockets of the ABA, he averaged 20.5 points and 12 rebounds and helped the Sonics close in a rush and finish three games away from a playoff berth. Another plus is the return of Bob Rule, who missed all but four games with an Achilles tear. Rule, who has played center, may be better suited for forward. He averaged 24.6 a game in his last full season.

SEATTLE SUPERSONICS. Seattle is the team to beat in this division. Len Wilkens, the playing coach, says so, and in between court appearances last season, Spencer Haywood started proving it.

In the 33 games Haywood played after jumping from the Denver Rockets of the ABA, he averaged 20.5 points and 12 rebounds and helped the Sonics close in a rush and finish three games away from a playoff berth. Another plus is the return of Bob Rule, who missed all but four games with an Achilles tear. Rule, who has played center, may be better suited for forward. He averaged 24.6 a game in his last full season.

SEATTLE SUPERSONICS. Seattle is the team to beat in this division. Len Wilkens, the playing coach, says so, and in between court appearances last season, Spencer Haywood started proving it.

In the 33 games Haywood played after jumping from the Denver Rockets of the ABA, he averaged 20.5 points and 12 rebounds and helped the Sonics close in a rush and finish three games away from a playoff berth. Another plus is the return of Bob Rule, who missed all but four games with an Achilles tear. Rule, who has played center, may be better suited for forward. He averaged 24.6 a game in his last full season.

SEATTLE SUPERSONICS. Seattle is the team to beat in this division. Len Wilkens, the playing coach, says so, and in between court appearances last season, Spencer Haywood started proving it.

In the 33 games Haywood played after jumping from the Denver Rockets of the ABA, he averaged 20.5 points and 12 rebounds and helped the Sonics close in a rush and finish three games away from a playoff berth. Another plus is the return of Bob Rule, who missed all but four games with an Achilles tear. Rule, who has played center, may be better suited for forward. He averaged 24.6 a game in his last full season.

SEATTLE SUPERSONICS. Seattle is the team to beat in this division. Len Wilkens, the playing coach, says so, and in between court appearances last season, Spencer Haywood started proving it.

DOWN AND OUT—Baltimore's Dave Johnson slams into Pittsburgh catcher Manny Sanguillen—who manages to hold on to ball for the out—as the Oriole tried to score from third on fourth-inning fly to left fielder Willie Stargell.

Palmer Had Enough to Win Game 2

BALTIMORE, Oct. 12 (UPI).—Jim Palmer's catcher said yesterday that Mrs. Richard Nixon "might have had better control" than the hard-throwing right-hander who yesterday beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-3, despite allowing eight walks.

Erod Hendricks, who caught Palmer's 168 pitches during the eight innings he worked, said the right-hander "had good stuff and threw enough curves to keep them honest."

But Palmer had trouble getting his curve over the plate and threw mostly fast balls toward the end of the game. Of his 168 pitches, he said he "made a lot of mistakes," only one hurt him—a fat pitch over the middle that Richie Hebner poked into the right-field stands for a three-run homer in the eighth.

Hendricks also caught the game's first ball, thrown out by Mrs. Nixon, who attended the game with Julie and David Eisenhower.

"She throws better than a lot of guys I know," Hendricks said. "She might have had better control than Palmer."

"It wasn't one of my more artistic performances," Palmer said, but he admitted it gave him a bigger kick than his 20th victory of the regular season.

"I didn't have 60 million people watching me when I won my 20th in Cleveland," he said.

Palmer blamed his wildness partially on the home plate umpire, Ed Sudol of the National League. "National League umpires are used to calling a low strike zone and I threw a lot of high pitches," Palmer said.

However, Hendricks defended Sudol, saying Memorial Stadium's shadows "made it tough picking up the ball in the middle innings."

Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente also had some words about Memorial Stadium. They were all unkind. It was, he charged, the "worst field I've played on in the major leagues," and hardly suitable for a World Series.

"This is not a big league ballpark," Clemente said. "You cannot see the ball in the outfield. You can't see where it's going when they hit it into the air."

Palmer said he was "aware" that he had a no-hitter going into the fifth, and when Brooks Robinson lined a one-out single to left-center, he was aware that the tying run was on base. But two grounders got him out of that mix.

Then, in the sixth, he started by walking Cuellar, but this time got him out. And finally, in the bottom of the sixth, he got a little breathing room—one more run. He got it when Manny Sanguillen led with a single to right center and inserted it into a double with a head-first slide ahead of Rettenmund's late throw. Again, the lapse cost the Orioles more than red faces. Jose Pagan followed with a single down the left-field line and just like that it was 2-0 Pirates.

Twice Worthy, Hill Circus to Run In International

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 12 (Reuters).—American 4-year-old Twice Worthy will run in the $150,000 Washington, D.C., International at Laurel race course here Oct. 25, track officials have announced. He joins Ran the Gantlet as the United States representatives in the race.

Also in the race will be the English-trained Hill Circus, owned by Californian George Pope.

The 3-year-old American-bred Philly, who was an impressive winner of the Princess Royal Stakes at Ascot Saturday, will be ridden in the international race by English jockey Geoff Lewis.

Hill Circus becomes the sixth European entry for the international. Already announced as starters are Soudard (Belgium), Trogiano (Italy), Trol, which was also to represent Italy, withdrawn because the filly was a temperature, Irish Ball (France) and Quiludi (France).

College Football. AP WRITERS' POLL. (The top twenty teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points tabulated on basis of 25-18-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1.)

Table with 2 columns: Rank, Team Name, Points. 1. Nebraska (9) 1,056; 2. Oklahoma (8) 822; 3. Michigan (4) 688; 4. Alabama 668; 5. Auburn (1) 620; 6. Colorado (1) 576; 7. Notre Dame 576; 8. Georgia 504; 9. Penn State 492; 10. Texas 492; 11. Arkansas State 492; 12. Louisiana State 492; 13. Ohio State 492; 14. Tennessee 492; 15. Stanford 492; 16. Toledo 492; 17. Florida State 492; 18. Florida State 492; 19. Washington 492; 20. Purdue 492.

UPI COACHES' POLL. (The top teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points tabulated on basis of 10-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1.)

UPI COACHES' POLL. (The top teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points tabulated on basis of 10-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1.)

UPI COACHES' POLL. (The top teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points tabulated on basis of 10-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1.)

Each Team Loses Ball 5 Times

Cowboys Fumble Way To Victory Over Giants

DALLAS, Oct. 12 (UPI).—For 41 minutes last night, the New York Giants flirted with a major upset, but finally had to settle for merely a noble effort in losing to the Dallas Cowboys, 20-13.

Fumbles, costly penalties and other misplays determined the weird shape of a game played on dry turf before 67,000 fans in the Cotton Bowl. Each team lost the ball five times in a total of 12 fumbles.

The net result of these exchanges was favorable to the Giants, and they had a 6-6 tie until the last 17 seconds of the first half, when Roger Staubach hit Billy Truax with a four-yard touchdown pass.

But the score was still 13-6 deep into the third period, when the Giants seemed to be driving for a tying touchdown. Starting with Steve Lockyer's interception of a Craig Morton pass, the Giants moved from their 44 to the Dallas nine, where it was second and three yards to go.

However, Joe Morrison fumbled, and four plays later Dallas had the touchdown that put victory out of reach. It came on a 48-yard Morton-to-Job Hayes pass that completed an 83-yard advance.

In the final quarter, a spark of Giant hope from a fumble recovery on the Dallas 31 was wiped out three plays later when Bobby Duhon, who played an outstanding game, fumbled after catching a pass.

The Cowboys went to the Giant one where Tom Rees fumbled and Lockhart recovered. But the 20-6 margin seemed secure enough when the Giants tried and failed to make a first down on their 40 with 2 minutes 45 seconds to play.

On the next play, Dallas was penalized 15 yards for holding and then Joe Williams fumbled, giving the Giants another chance as Jim Filer recovered on the Giant 49. Fran Tarkenton moved the team to a touchdown on a 24-yard pass to Clifton McNeil with 1:31 to play, and the hope was alive again.

The upside kick didn't work, and by using their time-outs, the Giants succeeded in getting the ball back on downs on their 30 with 22 seconds left. The game ended, appropriately, with Tarkenton scrambling after losing a desperate lateral, which became the final fumble.

The game started with a fumble, too. Rocky Thompson, running back the opening kickoff, lost the ball when hit and Dallas started from the Giant 39.

Namath to Practice. NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (UPI).—Despite the New York Jets' disastrous start, Joe Namath is determined to return at quarterback as soon as possible.

In their year of the knee, the Jets season virtually over even before their Shea Stadium opener Sunday with the Buffalo Bills. John Elliott and Gerry Philbin have been hospitalized with knee injuries, demoralizing the defensive unit that had kept the Jets alive despite an invisible offense.

By the time Namath is able to return, the Jets might not have won another game. Why bother?

"Because when you're a football player, and you think you can do something to help your team win, you should try to do it," the limping quarterback said yesterday from Boston by telephone.

athletic, after a two-week study, issued a 32-page report on the case. Drawing on testimony from coaches, players and medical officials the panel attempted to reconstruct events during the Sept. 6 practice and concluded there was no evidence of irregularities or negligence in the death.

Summers had circulated after the incident about a lack of adequate medical attention on the field and the time it had taken to get Arnold to the student infirmary.

"The issue is closed as far as I am concerned," Bill Dealey, the football coach, said last Saturday night, after North Carolina had been upset by Tulane, 37-29, for its first defeat of the season.

phone. "I'm tired of going into bus dressed that the quarter-back's return won't be rushed. "We want Joe to start working into shape," Ewbank said. "Then we'll sit down and decide when he'll return."

Coach Weeb Ewbank was delighted with Namath's attitude, but indicated that the quarter-back's return won't be rushed.

"We want Joe to start working into shape," Ewbank said. "Then we'll sit down and decide when he'll return."

Petrosian Ties With Fischer

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 12 (UPI).—Bobby Fischer of the United States and Tigran Petrosian of the Soviet Union drew the fourth match of the final candidate's chess tournament today.

The game went down to an ending with two bishops and pawns on each side. For Fischer, it was a minor victory, having equalized the game with the black pieces. This was the first time in the match that a relatively simple game developed so quickly.

Both players now have one game and there have been two draws in the 12-game match. Each player has two points. A total of 1 1/2 points is needed to win the series, with a victory counting one point and a draw a half-point. The victor will meet Boris Spassky of the Soviet Union for the world championship.

The match was called by referee Lothar Schmid of West Germany by mutual accord of both players after 20 moves, the shortest of the four matches played thus far. The game took only 61 minutes.

At the end, the two had exchanged queens, their rooks, their knights, and one pawn each. Petrosian, 42, world chess champion from 1963 to 1969, opened with white's pawn to queen bishop's four, English opening.

Fischer, 28, responded with the same move, establishing a Sicilian defense, dragon variant. The first 10 moves were carried out rapidly, with Petrosian taking only three minutes and Fischer, who castled king side on the ninth move, seven minutes.

Move-by-move summary of today's fourth game of the 12-game series between Fischer, of the United States, and Petrosian, of the Soviet Union:

PETROSIAN FISHER. 1. P-Q4 P-B4 2. P-Q4 K-B3 3. N-K3 P-K3 4. N-K3 P-K3 5. N-K3 P-K3 6. N-K3 P-K3 7. N-K3 P-K3 8. N-K3 P-K3 9. N-K3 P-K3 10. N-K3 P-K3 11. N-K3 P-K3 12. N-K3 P-K3 13. N-K3 P-K3 14. N-K3 P-K3 15. N-K3 P-K3 16. N-K3 P-K3 17. N-K3 P-K3 18. N-K3 P-K3 19. N-K3 P-K3 20. N-K3 P-K3 21. N-K3 P-K3 22. N-K3 P-K3 23. N-K3 P-K3 24. N-K3 P-K3 25. N-K3 P-K3 26. N-K3 P-K3 27. N-K3 P-K3 28. N-K3 P-K3 29. N-K3 P-K3 30. N-K3 P-K3 31. N-K3 P-K3 32. N-K3 P-K3 33. N-K3 P-K3 34. N-K3 P-K3 35. N-K3 P-K3 36. N-K3 P-K3 37. N-K3 P-K3 38. N-K3 P-K3 39. N-K3 P-K3 40. N-K3 P-K3 41. N-K3 P-K3 42. N-K3 P-K3 43. N-K3 P-K3 44. N-K3 P-K3 45. N-K3 P-K3 46. N-K3 P-K3 47. N-K3 P-K3 48. N-K3 P-K3 49. N-K3 P-K3 50. N-K3 P-K3 51. N-K3 P-K3 52. N-K3 P-K3 53. N-K3 P-K3 54. N-K3 P-K3 55. N-K3 P-K3 56. N-K3 P-K3 57. N-K3 P-K3 58. N-K3 P-K3 59. N-K3 P-K3 60. N-K3 P-K3 61. N-K3 P-K3 62. N-K3 P-K3 63. N-K3 P-K3 64. N-K3 P-K3 65. N-K3 P-K3 66. N-K3 P-K3 67. N-K3 P-K3 68. N-K3 P-K3 69. N-K3 P-K3 70. N-K3 P-K3 71. N-K3 P-K3 72. N-K3 P-K3 73. N-K3 P-K3 74. N-K3 P-K3 75. N-K3 P-K3 76. N-K3 P-K3 77. N-K3 P-K3 78. N-K3 P-K3 79. N-K3 P-K3 80. N-K3 P-K3 81. N-K3 P-K3 82. N-K3 P-K3 83. N-K3 P-K3 84. N-K3 P-K3 85. N-K3 P-K3 86. N-K3 P-K3 87. N-K3 P-K3 88. N-K3 P-K3 89. N-K3 P-K3 90. N-K3 P-K3 91. N-K3 P-K3 92. N-K3 P-K3 93. N-K3 P-K3 94. N-K3 P-K3 95. N-K3 P-K3 96. N-K3 P-K3 97. N-K3 P-K3 98. N-K3 P-K3 99. N-K3 P-K3 100. N-K3 P-K3 101. N-K3 P-K3 102. N-K3 P-K3 103. N-K3 P-K3 104. N-K3 P-K3 105. N-K3 P-K3 106. N-K3 P-K3 107. N-K3 P-K3 108. N-K3 P-K3 109. N-K3 P-K3 110. N-K3 P-K3 111. N-K3 P-K3 112. N-K3 P-K3 113. N-K3 P-K3 114. N-K3 P-K3 115. N-K3 P-K3 116. N-K3 P-K3 117. N-K3 P-K3 118. N-K3 P-K3 119. N-K3 P-K3 120. N-K3 P-K3 121. N-K3 P-K3 122. N-K3 P-K3 123. N-K3 P-K3 124. N-K3 P-K3 125. N-K3 P-K3 126. N-K3 P-K3 127. N-K3 P-K3 128. N-K3 P-K3 129. N-K3 P-K3 130. N-K3 P-K3 131. N-K3 P-K3 132. N-K3 P-K3 133. N-K3 P-K3 134. N-K3 P-K3 135. N-K3 P-K3 136. N-K3 P-K3 137. N-K3 P-K3 138. N-K3 P-K3 139. N-K3 P-K3 140. N-K3 P-K3 141. N-K3 P-K3 142. N-K3 P-K3 143. N-K3 P-K3 144. N-K3 P-K3 145. N-K3 P-K3 146. N-K3 P-K3 147. N-K3 P-K3 148. N-K3 P-K3 149. N-K3 P-K3 150. N-K3 P-K3 151. N-K3 P-K3 152. N-K3 P-K3 153. N-K3 P-K3 154. N-K3 P-K3 155. N-K3 P-K3 156. N-K3 P-K3 157. N-K3 P-K3 158. N-K3 P-K3 159. N-K3 P-K3 160. N-K3 P-K3 161. N-K3 P-K3 162. N-K3 P-K3 163. N-K3 P-K3 164. N-K3 P-K3 165. N-K3 P-K3 166. N-K3 P-K3 167. N-K3 P-K3 168. N-K3 P-K3 169. N-K3 P-K3 170. N-K3 P-K3 171. N-K3 P-K3 172. N-K3 P-K3 173. N-K3 P-K3 174. N-K3 P-K3 175. N-K3 P-K3 176. N-K3 P-K3 177. N-K3 P-K3 178. N-K3 P-K3 179. N-K3 P-K3 180. N-K3 P-K3 181. N-K3 P-K3 182. N-K3 P-K3 183. N-K3 P-K3 184. N-K3 P-K3 185. N-K3 P-K3 186. N-K3 P-K3 187. N-K3 P-K3 188. N-K3 P-K3 189. N-K3 P-K3 190. N-K3 P-K3 191. N-K3 P-K3 192. N-K3 P-K3 193. N-K3 P-K3 194. N-K3 P-K3 195. N-K3 P-K3 196. N-K3 P-K3 197. N-K3 P-K3 198. N-K3 P-K3 199. N-K3 P-K3 200. N-K3 P-K3 201. N-K3 P-K3 202. N-K3 P-K3 203. N-K3 P-K3 204. N-K3 P-K3 205. N-K3 P-K3 206. N-K3 P-K3 207. N-K3 P-K3 208. N-K3 P-K3 209. N-K3 P-K3 210. N-K3 P-K3 211. N-K3 P-K3 212. N-K3 P-K3 213. N-K3 P-K3 214. N-K3 P-K3 215. N-K3 P-K3 216. N-K3 P-K3 217. N-K3 P-K3 218. N-K3 P-K3 219. N-K3 P-K3 220. N-K3 P-K3 221. N-K3 P-K3 222. N-K3 P-K3 223. N-K3 P-K3 224. N-K3 P-K3 225. N-K3 P-K3 226. N-K3 P-K3 227. N-K3 P-K3 228. N-K3 P-K3 229. N-K3 P-K3 230. N-K3 P-K3 231. N-K3 P-K3 232. N-K3 P-K3 233. N-K3 P-K3 234. N-K3 P-K3 235. N-K3 P-K3 236. N-K3 P-K3 237. N-K3 P-K3 238. N-K3 P-K3 239. N-K3 P-K3 240. N-K3 P-K3 241. N-K3 P-K3 242. N-K3 P-K3 243. N-K3 P-K3 244. N-K3 P-K3 245. N-K3 P-K3 246. N-K3 P-K3 247. N-K3 P-K3 248. N-K3 P-K3 249. N-K3 P-K3 250. N-K3 P-K3 251. N-K3 P-K3 252. N-K3 P-K3 253. N-K3 P-K3 254. N-K3 P-K3 255. N-K3 P-K3 256. N-K3 P-K3 257. N-K3 P-K3 258. N-K3 P-K3 259. N-K3 P-K3 260. N-K3 P-K3 261. N-K3 P-K3 262. N-K3 P-K3 263. N-K3 P-K3 264. N-K3 P-K3 265. N-K3 P-K3 266. N-K3 P-K3 267. N-K3 P-K3 268. N-K3 P-K3 269. N-K3 P-K3 270. N-K3 P-K3 271. N-K3 P-K3 272. N-K3 P-K3 273. N-K3 P-K3 274. N-K3 P-K3 275. N-K3 P-K3 276. N-K3 P-K3 277. N-K3 P-K3 278. N-K3 P-K3 279. N-K3 P-K3 280. N-K3 P-K3 281. N-K3 P-K3 282. N-K3 P-K3 283. N-K3 P-K3 284. N-K3 P-K3 285. N-K3 P-K3 286. N-K3 P-K3 287. N-K3 P-K3 288. N-K3 P-K3 289. N-K3 P-K3 290. N-K3 P-K3 291. N-K3 P-K3 292. N-K3 P-K3 293. N-K3 P-K3 294. N-K3 P-K3 295. N-K3 P-K3 296. N-K3 P-K3 297. N-K3 P-K3 298. N-K3 P-K3 299. N-K3 P-K3 300. N-K3 P-K3 301. N-K3 P-K3 302. N-K3 P-K3 303. N-K3 P-K3 304. N-K3 P-K3 305. N-K3 P-K3 306. N-K3 P-K3 307. N-K3 P-K3 308. N-K3 P-K3 309. N-K3 P-K3 310. N-K3 P-K3 311. N-K3 P-K3 312. N-K3 P-K3 313. N-K3 P-K3 314. N-K3 P-K3 315. N-K3 P-K3 316. N-K3 P-K3 317. N-K3 P-K3 318. N-K3 P-K3 319. N-K3 P-K3 320. N-K3 P-K3 321. N-K3 P-K3 322. N-K3 P-K3 323. N-K3 P-K3 324. N-K3 P-K3 325. N-K3 P-K3 326. N-K3 P-K3 327. N-K3 P-K3 328. N-K3 P-K3 329. N-K3 P-K3 330. N-K3 P-K3 331. N-K3 P-K3 332. N-K3 P-K3 333. N-K3 P-K3 334. N-K3 P-K3 335. N-K3 P-K3 336. N-K3 P-K3 337. N-K3 P-K3 338. N-K3 P-K3 339. N-K3 P-K3 340. N-K3 P-K3 341. N-K3 P-K3 342. N-K3 P-K3 343. N-K3 P-K3 344. N-K3 P-K3 345. N-K3 P-K3 346. N-K3 P-K3 347. N-K3 P-K3 348. N-K3 P-K3 349. N-K3 P-K3 350. N-K3 P-K3 351. N-K3 P-K3 352. N-K3 P-K3 353. N-K

Observer

The Maltese Buzzard

By Russell Baker

WASHINGTON—If only they had waited 50 years to invent the private eye...

Baker

"Could you be an Internal Revenue agent?" I asked.

"Not with a figure like she's got, boss," Daisy quipped.

"Who did it?" I asked. "Was it the Internal Revenue?"

"Get out," she told Daisy. "I want to be alone with Mr. Spad."

"Her fur coat had fallen open and I glimpsed a figure that would have raised the office temperature five degrees if the thermostats on the sensitive air-conditioning system had not been right on the job."

hands, and when she saw that she had me gaping she lost interest in the pistol just long enough for me to lay a stiff left jab right in her midsection and cross with a smash to the jaw that sent her reeling into my Andy Warhol.

Bouncing off the soup can, she grabbed my right wrist, bent the forearm back against the joint, gave me a kick that sent waves of pain radiating from the 47th floor down into the underground parking garage and threw me over her shoulder.

"When I came to she had me propped on the sofa and was going through my desk. She was something to see, all right, and I wanted to marry her, even though I knew I'd have to send her to prison first for killing somebody if I couldn't break her of hitting men who tried to take away her pistols."

"I didn't tell her that, though. What I told her was that I thought she ought to start wearing a brassiere, and get married, and settle down, and start doing the dishes instead of breaking up the GM building. She said I was a male chauvinist and interrupted the rifting of my desk long enough to pick me up, slap me on the cheeks and ask, 'Have you ever heard of the Maltese turkey buzzard?'"

"I told her I hadn't but said I liked the symbolism. 'What would you charge to help me find it?'" she asked in a voice like an over-heated radiator when you pour cold water on it. I felt like a melting ice cream cone. "For you I'd do it for $25 a day and expenses. I gasped like an actor on television in a cold-emergency, 'but for anybody else it would be $75 an hour plus time and a half for beatings.'"

"Just as I thought," she hissed. "Not only a sexist, but a tax swindler!" She opened her coat wide, revealing a badge that said U.S. Internal Revenue Service Agent.

I rang for Daisy. "Get me my lawyers," I told her. "Get me my press agent and my ghost writer. Get me a tax auditor and my business manager."

Daisy said she had another idea. "Shoot," I told her. "Let me get you a private detective."

By Don Cook

France and the Guillotine

PARIS—Will France ever use the guillotine again?

The last occasion on which the blade fell on the neck of a convicted murderer was at Amiens Prison in March, 1969, while President Charles de Gaulle was still in power. When President Georges Pompidou took office a few months later, he commuted the only three death sentences which were on his desk, and since then, until early October, there has been nobody in French prisons facing the guillotine.

But now, two new death sentences have been pronounced in quick succession by courts in Nice and Nantes—the first in four years. Moreover, there has been an abrupt turn-around in public opinion on the question of use of the guillotine following the murder of two hostages who were seized by French prisoners in an attempt to bargain an escape from Clairvaux Prison in late September.

In 1969, after Mr. Pompidou commuted the last death sentences, 59 percent of the Frenchmen polled favored an abolition of the death penalty and only 33 percent wanted the guillotine retained. Today the percentages have almost exactly reversed—58 percent want the guillotine used, and 39 percent are for abolition while eight percent are in the don't-know category.

Family

In fact, the guillotine was used only five times in the decade of the 1960s. France's official executioner, Jean Desourneaux, formally renounced his lifetime job in 1966, partly for lack of business but more especially because he was tired of the social ostracism which went with a job he seldom performed.

The macabre invention of Dr. Joseph-Guillotine takes no expertise to operate, and is in ready storage in various prisons in France—collapsed, greased, sharpened and available for quick re-assembly any morning it is needed.

Mr. Desourneaux was the last in a long family line of French executioners going back at least 125 years. He inherited the job from his uncle, Anatole Deibler—who in turn was the son, grandson and great-grandson of official executioners. Mr. Deibler's nephew was the closest male heir to whom he could entrust his occupational inheritance when he died in 1939.

In the 19th century, there used to be an executioner for each of the main cities in France, and he was known by the name of the city—Monsieur de Lyon, Monsieur de Marseille, Monsieur de Paris, etc. Then the job gradually narrowed down to be performed by Monsieur de Paris only, and Anatole Deibler chopped more heads than any man since the French Revolution.

He took over before the turn of the century from his father, Louis-Anatole Stanislas Deibler, who executed 169 criminals. Anatole, who had assisted his father as an apprentice, pulled the release on the guillotine blade for the first time himself on Jan. 1, 1899, and by the time he died 30 years later he had performed well over 300 executions. His record year was 1921 when he performed 23 executions in public, as was the custom in those days. He also presided over the last public execution in France—a German named Eugen Weidmann, convicted of murder and guillotined outside Versailles prison in June, 1939.

According to press accounts at the time, it was a dramatic and distasteful affair. A mob almost out of control and women fighting to get to the front of the crowd while photographers clicked and newspapers all over France recorded the scene in photos next day.

It was a scene which has frequently been recorded in literature—perhaps most famously in Charles Dickens' novel "A Tale of Two Cities." But the most vivid and powerful guillotine scene in literature is in Arnold Bennett's great novel "The Old Wives Tale."

Anyway, the French cabinet met a week after the Weidmann execution and decreed that future guillotining would take place inside prison walls with only lawyers, representatives of the Ministry of Justice and ministers of religion permitted to attend. Since then, the scene has been enacted swiftly, with the minimum of notice, arrangement and ceremonial.

The prisoner does not know until he is awakened at 5:30 a.m. that his hour has come. The guillotine has been assembled in the night while the prisoner sleeps, just outside the cell-block door in the exercise yard. The prisoner's lawyer has been notified to be at the jail in the early morning, and a priest has been summoned.

The prisoner is awakened. A Ministry of Justice official quickly reads the execution order. The priest administers last rites of the church. The prisoner is offered a cigarette and a glass of rum. He is then bound and starts down the corridor of the cell block.

When he reaches the end of the cell block, a blindfold is quickly whipped around his eyes so that he never sees the guillotine. As he steps out of the cell-block door, he is bound to a shoulder-high plank, and is then lowered face down by guards between the upright shafts of the guillotine. At the instant the plank is level, the executioner trips the guillotine blade and the whole process, from cell door to death, is completed in less than a minute.

Last Man

The last man to be guillotined was Jean Olivier, a 26-year-old farmer who was convicted of the double murder and rape of two children, ages 10 and 11. He died on March 12, 1969. The guillotine last execution took place at Metz Prison in eastern France on Dec. 16, 1967, when Gunther Volk, 29, was executed on a similar rape-murder charge.

In addition to the five guillotines in France in the 1960s, there were five executions by firing squad of army officers or soldiers convicted by the state security court on charges of revolt, murder or attempted assassination growing out of the Algerian war.

In the prison revolt at Clairvaux, a village in eastern France near the city of Troyes, which took place on Sept. 21, a woman nurse and a prison guard had their throats slashed by two prisoners—one of whom is in jail on a life sentence for murder. Almost certainly in the present climate, he will receive the death sentence for this second murder when the case is tried. In fact, when he was sentenced originally he told the judge in a dramatic outburst that he felt no remorse for his crimes and wished to go to the guillotine.

David Rockefeller

After the prison affair, which the French blamed in part on the fact that prisoners had seen television films and read news accounts of the Attica rioting in New York, a court in Nice sentenced a Tunisian to death for killing a taxi driver, and a court in Nantes on the Atlantic coast handed down a similar sentence to a 36-year-old French truck driver for killing a policeman.

All death sentences must be confirmed by the president of the republic. It was clear when Mr. Pompidou took office that he hoped he would never have to order the guillotine assembled again, but it is not so clear today.

© Los Angeles Times

PEOPLE: 'You Are What You Throw Away'

Question: What do banker David Rockefeller and singer Bob Dylan have in common? Answer: Both have had their garbage picked by Alan J. Weberman. "You can tell a lot about a person from their garbage—their politics, their standard of living," says Weberman, a 36-year-old Tipton from New York and a self-styled "garbage analyst."

He took AP reporter Ann Henken on one of his "trips" the other night. "Weberman prepares for the garbage raid with the dignity of an immaculate Borgias' descendant," wrote Miss Henken. "He pulls his hair of red curls back into the semblance of a Paul Revere pony-tail and adjusts his gold-rimmed glasses. He puts on a clean white shirt. He folds a fresh plastic garbage bag and pockets a scribbled address and $50 in cash for emergencies."

"Garbage-hunting is an unobtrusive method of sociological research," he said. "People have done worse things for science. Besides, Weberman makes money out of it, his latest coup being a $900 fee for a magazine story on his favorite subject. It all started, he recalls, with his earlier career as a "Dylanologist" during which he chased the singer's trash bin. "I reached into the garbage can and pulled out a half-finished letter to Johnny Cash. It was a real find. I had a hunch it was a 'babe' pal, this of a gold mine," and a new career was born. Since the Dylan and Weberman has worked his way into the garbage of boxer Muhammad Ali, playwright Neil Simon and Tipton leader Abbie Hoffman, among others, and is already at work on a book called "You Are What You Throw Away," but the analyst's work is far from finished. Among those on Weberman's "mean-mean" list are: Vice-President Spiro Agnew, Attorney General John Mitchell, feminist Kate Millett, Tricia Nixon Cox and former Jackie Edie Arearo. "I see if he has some garbage," he says.

Yesterday he printed an item in which a Welsh professor advocated salaries for housewives and beyond house-keeping money. In the interest of today's rejoinder concern nagging wife. In London, under Bushnell, a Lanc County analyst, said in a recent report that he-picked a possible cause of obesity thrombosis among men. Tying a man wants who comes home from work tongue-lashing from the of says Bushnell but she, s with her own days troubles starts picking on him just sits down to dinner. It begins to bolt his meal out of the line of fire, and troubles ensue. "A know, asteric of obese and the s-s-men." Bushnell's a tendency to eat a lot. Nagging may indeed have thing to do with men's dng will to live."

Bob Dylan

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SAVILLE ROW TAILOR In Paris Tuesday to Saturday 12-18 October. Our dressmaker, Collette Gode, Rue de la Chapelle, Avenue Poche Tel: 72-68-94 taking orders for our haute couture made to order. Please telephone for appointment or information. Filings carried out in Paris.

REGENT AND GORDON 11 Dorset Street, Mayfair, London. (Member of club G.M. Guild).

AT CATHOLICS Anonymous meets Wed. 9 p.m. - 9.30 p.m. American Church, 65 Quai d'Orsay, Box 101.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY HELEN (W.P.O.) YOU LOVE YOU, Barry. WALTER LEITZAU, singer in the family. Please call: 01-49-06-06 or 01-49-06-07.

DEAR RICHARD, please read my letters I have sent to Café Maxim. I would be glad to have your box and can come to you.

RETURNING TO NEW YORK? Get a jump on the housing challenge? We have the information you need to get a home, quickly, comfortably, near New York City—in Westchester, New Jersey and Long Island. Write us, you arrive. Write us for details.

COUNTRY LIVING ASSOCIATES Country Living Assoc. New York 10017.

IN A RUSH? Dictate personally or phone English French mail to our immediate delivery. Tel: 49-23-18. Messageries Masses translations. London-Paris.

TRANSLATIONS English French and French English. PARIS PAPERS CO. 77, Avenue de la République, Paris 11. Tel: 49-23-18.

INTERNATIONAL FRENCH CO. 20, rue de Valenciennes, Paris. Tel: 23-25-41.

EDUCATION ENJOY LEARNING FRENCH Small classes - intensive and part-time throughout the year. Complete beginners' course. Language practice through the use of audio-visual aids. New classes at all levels start: OCTOBER 25th AT:

INTERNATIONAL HOUSE Passage Dauphine, Paris 6e. Tel: 33-41-37. Metro Odéon.

NON-STOP FRENCH Small groups, LUNCH with French. LATEST audio-visual method. INTERLANGUE, 12 R. de la Monnaie, Paris 2e. Tel: 33-21-72.

COMPLETE IMMERSION and gradual living in a comfortable French home. French cooking, culture, French friends. Write for details. Paris: 317, Herald, Paris.

REMINING SCHOOL 11 Rue Cambesin, Paris 7e. Tel: 64-14. Greg, she speaks French-English-English & American keyboards.

LOON & NON-LOON weaving classes for home. Text recording. Paris & West suburbs. Call: 506-40-37.

PAINTING, DRAWING with model. ARTS ALMA, Paris, 81-82-83. FRENCH/ITALIAN-SPANISH, Fr. 12, Rue de la Chapelle, Paris-2e.

FRENCH LESSONS IN ST-LOUIS 192 near American School. For adults, small groups starting, success in conversation French. ALSO ADULTS. Write for details. Paris: 317, Herald, Paris.

LOON & NON-LOON weaving classes for home. Text recording. Paris & West suburbs. Call: 506-40-37.

PAINTING, DRAWING with model. ARTS ALMA, Paris, 81-82-83. FRENCH/ITALIAN-SPANISH, Fr. 12, Rue de la Chapelle, Paris-2e.

FRENCH LESSONS IN ST-LOUIS 192 near American School. For adults, small groups starting, success in conversation French. ALSO ADULTS. Write for details. Paris: 317, Herald, Paris.

AUTOMOBILES

NEW 1971 AMERICAN CARS. AUTOREN EXPORT CORP. 29-27 11st. Ave. Long Isl. City, N.Y. 11101.

BMW 5000, 1969, 3900 km. motor. 1500 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 VW CAMPER, R. Werner, Amer. reg. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

1971 TOYOTA 800 GT, 800 km. 1145 cc. 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974. Also 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974.

HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL

JET FLIGHTS every other day. Also flights to California. Call Deaumont, 67, Rue Saint-Jacques, Paris-5e. Tel: 424-81-83.

U.S.A. £45, Return £75. Toronto 415 single, 875 return. Australia 415 single, 823 return. Luxury daily jet flights, short notice. Also all other destinations.

FLY U.S.A. $108 GUARANTEED. Daily jet service. Late bookings, no trouble. Ring or call: Thrift Air Travel, 12 Archer St., London, W.1. Tel: 492-7625. Evenings and weekends: 721-2904. Paris office, Tel: 222-03-70.

U.S. INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL. Low cost flights N.Y., 434 L.A., 275. If you want London along with return, call: 492-7625. 22 Rupert St., London, W.1. Tel: 492-7625. 22 Rupert St., London, W.1. Tel: 492-7625.

TYROLIAN TOURS (H). Free colored brochures and all details.

CHARTER FLIGHT INFORMATION SERVICE. 22 CLYDE CROSS ROAD, London W.2. Tel: 01-8360171.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

DIAMONDS. Lowest wholesale prices, direct from Antwerp. For free price list write: 2,000 Antwerp, Belgium.

NEW YORK $89

MAJOR U.S. MANUFACTURER Jeans and Shirts. Opportunity for aggressive wholesaler and manufacturer to sell one of America's top jeans and shirts. U.S. and foreign markets. Paris Oct. 23, 24, 25. Please write promptly for appointment.

STAN GORDON 1000 Park Ave. New York, N.Y. 10015, U.S.A.

GENEVA-based Advertising and Design Group, well versed in all aspects of advertising, including: Corporate, trade, and consumer advertising. Film and Photography. Long term and short term contracts available for new assignments. Write to: Stan Gordon, Advertising & Design, 9 Place de Bourgogne, CH-1204 Geneva or call: 021 247-115.

MEDICIN TO SMALL-SIZED COMPANIES interested in having their products advertised in the world's largest newspaper. Experienced group traveling worldwide with advertising resources. Your interests and products on the line. Write to: Stan Gordon, Advertising & Design, 9 Place de Bourgogne, CH-1204 Geneva or call: 021 247-115.

COMMERCIAL OFFICE IN ROME with excellent location. Fully equipped with individual or company telephone. Free telephone. Expansion in Italy. Write for details to: Stan Gordon, Advertising & Design, 9 Place de Bourgogne, CH-1204 Geneva or call: 021 247-115.

FOR SALE - SMALL SWISS COMPANY. Manufacturing electronic instruments. Excellent growth and potential for expansion. Write for details to: Stan Gordon, Advertising & Design, 9 Place de Bourgogne, CH-1204 Geneva or call: 021 247-115.

OFFICE SERVICES. YOUR OFFICE IN BRUSSELS. Fully equipped with services of: Typing, Translation, Copying, Printing, etc. Write for details to: Stan Gordon, Advertising & Design, 9 Place de Bourgogne, CH-1204 Geneva or call: 021 247-115.

REALESTATE TO LET. SHARE, EXCHANGE. PARIS AND SUBURBS. REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living room, 1 dining room, 1 bedroom, 1 study, 1 terrace. Call: 238-72-08, a.m.

REDECORATED. INVADABLE: 200 sq.m., 3 receptions. 1 maid's room, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, 1 living